(UPI Telephoto)

Brandt Resigns Over Spy Scandal

BONN (UPI) — A scandal over a Communist spy in his inner government circle swept Socialist Chancellor Willy Brandt out of office today but he said his resignation meant only that a "period of work and courageous fighting begins."

His resignation after assuming "political and personal responsibility" plunged West Germany into a political crisis and brought dismay to the leaders of Western Europe who saw it as a crushing blow to European unity. There also were expressions of sympathy from the Communist bloc which had approved Brandt's Nobel Prize winning policy of detente. Brandt said this did not mean he is going into retirement. "No one should imagine that I am going to abandon or neglect the cause for which I have worked all of my life," Brandt told Social Democratic deputies. "Now a period of work and courageous fighting begins."

Hours after stepping down, Brandt asked his Social Democratic parliamentary party to nominate his political deputy, Finance Minister Helmut Schmidt, for the chancellorship. Social Democratic deputies unanimously approved the proposal.

Schmidt is a native of Hamburg and his sharp tongue and instant repartee won him the nickname of "The Lip." Maintaining his reputation for brutal frankness, Schmidt recently had criticized Brandt for failing to give government and party the kind of firm leadership they needed and which, by inference, he suggested he could provide.

The West German chancellor is elected by Parliament. Foreign Minister Walter Scheel's Free Democrats (liberals) said they wished to maintain their partnership with the Socialists, thus assuring Schmidt's election by Parliament, probably on May 16.

Brandt's resigation may have ended a political career that had carried him from a fatherless home in a tough Baltic port to a seat among the mighty and the Nobel Peace Prize of 1971.

The spy scandal wiped out the popularity that gave him his greatest electoral victory 16 months ago, bat today the 60-year-old Brandt told an afternoon caucus of his Social Democratic parliamentary party that "I will devote myself fully to party work."

Deputies sprang to their feet and gave Brandt a long ovation today when he entered the meeting. He listened with an expressionless face, and also masked his feelings when parliamentary manager Herbert Wehner handed him a huge bouquet of 50 red roses and declared, "This is not the end."

Aide Certain Nixon To Be Fairly Judged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A White House spokesman expressed the conviction today that the Nixon presidency will be judged by foreign policy and domestic achievements and not the tone of the Watergate transcripts.

"As you have been told," Gerald L. Warren, deputy press secretary, said in response to reporters' questions, "we recognize the risks taken in providing transcripts of 33 hours of this very difficult subject.

"The President has had thousands of hours of conversations on important foreign policy matters and many hours with leaders od Congress.

"The point is, from my general view, I don't feel it's fair to judge the President on 33 hours of his very difficult discussions."

Warren added that, "We believe he will be judged on the foreign and domestic initiatives that were dealt with in the thousands of other hours" of tapings of presidential conversations in the Oval Office, his hideaway office and elsewhere.

Warren made the comments when asked about a statement by Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott that the transcripts showed a "shabby, disgusting and immoral performance" at the White House.

Warren stressed that he was speaking for himself. He said he was unable to give Nixon's personal reaction to criticism of the moral tone in some Washington circles of his conversations with aides and other administration officials.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford said in New York last night that in assessing the transcripts, the emphasis should not be on the moral question but on Nixon's role in Watergate.

Warren said that the judgment should be made on the "subject" of the transcripts.

"There have been many meetings over the years where important subjects were discussed," Warren said. "The foreign policy achievements, I think are clear to everyone—and the domestic initiatives.

"We feel he will be judged on these matters."

He expressed his own viewpoint that the transcripts demonstrated that the President was not implicated in the Watergate cover-up.

Most White House aides have read the complete book of transcripts and none seems to challenge Nixon's judgment in laying bare many of his most private conversations on Watergate to the world.

Some Cabinet members say they have been too busy to read them.

The most vocal on the public record has been Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan, who told reporters at a White House briefing: "I've read some of the transcripts, but have been too busy for all. My impression is that they don't incriminate the President in any crimes. I don't

Scott Calls Edited Transcripts Shabby

Also Says Text Conveys 'Immoral Performance'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today transcripts of private presidential conversations convey "a shabby, disgusting and immoral performance."

Scott told reporters he has read the first 800 pages of the 1,300 pages of edited transcript of taped recordings of Watergate discussions between Nixon and various aides and associates.

Scott said he concluded from the transcripts that there was "not enough showing of moral indignation which would have been expected under the circumstances."

Asked if he was referring to Nixon, Scott said, "I mean by each of those persons (who participated in the conversations) according to what he said."

Pressed for who he meant when he referred to a disgusting performance, Scott said: "The transcripts will have to speak for themselves."

"I won't go any further than that," Scott said.

Scott said the material released a week ago today by the White House showed "the President is frequently urging others to get the story out," but added he thought the transcripts were "very confused."

"I am enormously disturbed that there was not enough showing of moral indignation which would have been expected under the circumstances," Scott said.

"I think the transcripts represent a shabby, disgusting and immoral performance."

White House officials have made clear they believe the President has provided to the House Judiciary Committee all the material it needs for its impeachment inquiry, but even before reading all of the transcripts, many committee members say they need more information.

One member, Rep. John L. Conyers, D-Mich., an outspoken critic of the President, said today his reading of the transcripts convince him that Nixon had committed "an impeachable act."

Conyers said Nixon's "blackmail" discussions o March 21, 1973, with John W. Dean concerning demands by Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt was "the best evidence of the commission of a federal crime."

Growth Decision Will Be Appealed

By ERNEST MURPHY

The Petaluma City Council last night decided to appeal the federal court order which has virtually paralyzed the city's planning capability. (Another Petaluma City Council story, page 3.)

The council voted 6-1 to "take all necessary steps" to seek a reversal of the January 18 decision of U.S. District Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke, who not only enjoined against the city's 500-unit annual growth limit but also forbade any other municipal action which might restrict construction of more housing.

The dissenting councilman, Vice Mayor John W. Cavanagh Jr., said he detected little support for the appeal among residents "other than those immediately connected" with the case.

Cavanagh said Burke's decision on the suit, which was filed against the city by several Sonoma and Marin construction and development firms, has caused Petaluma to receive considerable adverse publicity.

He read from the San Francisco Chronicle an article which he said "describes the vain effort of a small town to remain a small town forever."

"We're not a small town," Cavanagh corrected, "but a small city.

"People talk a lot about law and order nowadays. If we're interested in law and order we should respect Judge Burke's ruling."

Cavanagh's comments were immediately challenged by councilman Fred V. Mattei.

"There's absolutely no control left with the council the way I read this deal," Mattei said. "He (Burke) says we have

CITY OF SAN RAFAEL 1874 1974 CENTENNIAL

PARADE LINEUP IS ANNOUNCED

The San Rafael Centennial Parade Committee today announced the lineup for the big birthday event scheduled May 26.

More than 200 entries have been received for the parade, making it one of the "longest in Northern California history," the committee said. See story, page 30.

Insurance Rates For Fire Drop

A review of fire protection facilities in San Rafael by the Insurance Services Office in San Francisco has resulted in lower fire insurance rates.

Daniel C. Dufficy, chairman of the San Rafael Fire Commission, said today the city's fire rating has been changed from class four to class three, on a 10-class scale.

The move will allow residents to enjoy an 8 per cent decrease in fire insurance costs for residential structures, and up to a 15 per cent decrease in insurance costs for commercial structures, he said.

"We had to have a pretty damn good fire department to get this," Dufficy reported today, saying San Rafael is among about a dozen cities in Northern California that has been granted such a high rating.

The Insurance Services Office, research arm of insurance firms across the nation, conducted an intense study of local fire facilities and recommended, among other things, that an additional ladder company should be pressed into service and additional arterial mains should be installed.

Liquor For Mexican Eatery Is Ruled Out

Councilmen split 3-2 in affirming a planning commission denial of a use permit for a bar at the Que Pasa restaurant.

The vote appeared to scuttle the restaurant, as spokesmen for Cho Cho Corp., which proposed it, said no eating place is possible without a bar, for economic reasons.

The split vote followed an hour of debate, argument, confusion over how to proceed, and questions put to architect Garth Collier, representing Cho Cho.

Collier said about 165 seats were planned in the combined bar-restaurant, a compromise of the original 200 seats asked of the planning commission.

After hearing comments from the audience that the restaurant would overburden Mill Valley's already strained parking situation, councilmen voted 3-2 to deny the appeal.

Councilmen Jean S. Barnard, Gerald J. Hood and Robert E. Capron voted against the bar, while Mayor Robert E. Burton and Ivan S. Poutiatine favored it.

Tam Teachers May Get 8 Per Cent Hike In Pay

By BILL ROBERTS

The Tamalpais High School District can balance its budget for 1974-75 and grant teachers an 8 per cent wage hike, double what had been considered in previous proposals, trustees were told last night. (Another Tamalpais district story, page 5.)

Supt. Robert D. Torrey offered a budget trimming package which identified $300,000 in additional budget cuts which would grant the 8 per cent raise.

Torrey previously identified savings which would eliminate a $600,000 deficit in the district's proposed $12.3 million budget and allow teachers a 4 per cent raise.

"The teachers haven't agreed at all to anything less than 15 per cent and the board hasn't made any salary proposal to the teachers so the 8 per cent is entirely hypothetical," he cautioned.

But it is a significant increase

Defeat Of Viet Fund Questioned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House today expressed deep disappointment in the Senate's rejection of a $266 million Pentagon request for ammunition for South Vietnam and said the action could cause America's allies to question its reliability.

Presidential spokesman Gerald L. Warren said that the funds were needed to help maintain "military equilibrium" in South Vietnam where Hanoi has illegally infiltrated "more than 120,000 troops and large quantities of tanks, missiles and other munitions" since the 1973 ceasefire agreement.

The Senate by a 43-38 vote yesterday had approved a motion by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to deny the funds.

Kissinger Hopeful Of Russian Support

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Cyprus today, and a high American official said Kissinger believed the Russians would not try to block a Syrian-Israeli troop disengagement agreement on the Golan Heights.

A joint U.S.-Russian communifue issued at Russian behest after the meeting said only they discussed Middle East problems including disengagement and that both sides considered the exchange mutually useful. The American official said the possibility was "very likely" that Kissinger would be able to register some progress this week and that there was a possibility some sort of agreement could be reached this week — "The next 48 hours should tell."

The high American official, flying back to Israel after the three hours of Kissinger-Gromyko talks, said he believed there was progress and that Kissinger would know better within 48 hours if there is a possibility of getting the agreement on his current Middle East mission.

He said Kissinger's negotiations were moving into a critical stage and that he expected to get a new Israeli proposal to take to Syria tomorrow.

Kissinger drove from Ben-Gurion International Airport outside Tel Aviv to Jerusalem to meet Prime Minister Golda Meir almost immediately. As he left Cyprus with an expression of hope, the Israeli cabinet met to discuss the proposal which Kissinger will take to Damascus.

Before boarding the plane, Kissinger thanked the Cyprus government for its hospitality and the arrangements made for the talks with Gromyko. "I appreciated the talks I had with President Makarios and after the meeting (with Gromyko) I do leave with a very good feeling about my experiences in Cyprus," he said.

There were indications the fighting on the Golan Heights had tapered off in its 57th day but an Israeli spokesman said it was too early to know for sure.

Willits Blaze Damage High

WILLITS (AP) — A fire in the business district destroyed two buildings including a newspaper, with damage estimates running to $400,000.

"We lost about half a block of Main Street," said Police Sgt. Mitchell McCoy.

No injuries were reported in the blaze yesterday which destroyed offices of the weekly Willits News and a bakery and damaged an adjoining hotel and variety shop, police said.

Heavy smoke, fire and water damage also was reported in a feed and sporting goods store, variety store and three apartments.

Unofficial estimates put the damage at up to $400,000.

Firemen said the blaze may have started at the back of the bakery, which was unoccupied at the time.

HOLLYWOOD HOLOCAUST — Flames and smoke billowed from a sound stage at Samuel Goldwyn movie studio yesterday as fire and a series of explosions did an estimated $2 million damage to the stage, where such movies as "Guys and Dolls," "West Side Story" and "The Best Years of Our Lives" were made. (AP Wirephoto)

Goldwyn Studio Fire Does Heavy Damage

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A multimillion dollar fire burned two sound stages to the ground at famed Sam Goldwyn Studios yesterday, injuring three persons and routing scores of others from the filming of a children's television show.

It was one of Hollywood's worst studio fires since 1958 when a blaze at the same studio destroyed the film set of "Porgy and Bess," causing $5 million damage.

A force of 250 firemen fought the blaze Monday, which broke out in Studio 5 during the filming of the children's show "Sigmund and the Sea Monsters" in which one of the monsters was about to emerge from a cave.

Suddenly, smoke began to belch from the cave and flames shot out.

"We ran for our lives," said director John Carr, one of 60 persons on the set at the time. "Then the walls came tumbling down."

The Los Angeles County Fire Department, which declared the blaze controlled four hours after it broke out at 4 p.m., said cause apparently was a short circuit that occurred when a light was switched on on the set.

Sound stages 4 and 5, the nostalgic homes of such films as "Porgy and Bess" and "Best Years of Our Lives," were destroyed and executive offices in a three-story building adjacent to it were heavily damaged.

"The loss could run over $2 million," a county fire spokesman said.

Fire officials said two production employes suffered burns in the blaze, the mostly seriously injured identified as Michael Greslin, 29, Sun Valley, Calif.

Greslin was reported in critical condition at County-USC Medical Center. Names of the other two victims were not immediately released.

Actress Ali McGraw and actor Steve McQueen were among those in the huge crowd that watched the fire fighting operations.

Actor Robert Conrad of the old "Wild Wild West" television series said he was in one of the executive offices when the fire broke out, but stayed thinking it would be quickly controlled.

"Then the walls collapsed around me and I got out of there," he said.

Syrian, Israeli Forces Duel For Mount Hermon

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Syrian and Israeli forces went into the ninth week of their Golan Heights war of attrition today with artillery duels for control of strategic Mount Hermon.

A military communiqe in Damascus said the pre-dawn clashes on 9,232-foot Mt. Hermon, which looks down on Israel, Syria and Lebanon, "extended to other parts of the front" during the morning.

The fighting came as Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger headed for a Cyprus meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to discuss Golan Heights troop pullbacks.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said yesterday "it's hard to point to real progress in the negotiations with the Syrians."

Syrian Defense Minister Mustafa Tlas visited his troops on Mount Hermon last night and praised their "heroic steadfastness," the official Syrian Arab News Agency reported.

Israel reported shooting down one of four Syrian warplanes on a strafing mission yesterday. Syria reported downing four Israeli jets. Both nations denied any losses.

On the ground, Syria said its artillery knocked out three Israeli anti-tank rocket bases, a field artillery gun and an ammunition depot. Israel reported one of its soldiers killed by artillery.

Military correspondents in Tel Aviv said Israel has stiffened terms for troop separation and may now want to keep some strategic positions captured in the 1973 Middle East War in exchange for returning less vital areas taken in 1967.

Train Thief Must Find A Country

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Great Train Robbery fugitive Ronald Biggs, a man in search of a country, set out today with Brazil's blessings to find a haven from Scotland Yard detectives.

The Brazilian government released Biggs from jail last night and gave the elusive fugitive 30 days of "semiliberty" to search for a country willing to take him in.

The government turned down a Scotland Yard request for Biggs' extradition, but said he would be deported to Britain for entering Brazil illegally if he failed to find a nation to accept him by the deadline.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Chicago Mayor Is In Hospital

CHICAGO (UPI) — Mayor Richard J. Daley, last of the big city political bosses, was in the hospital today for tests to identify what reportedly might be an abnormal blood condition.

Daley

It was the first night Daley has spent in a hospital in nearly 20 years as mayor. His wife, Eleanor, whom he affectionately calls "Sis," spent the night at his side.

Kennedy Speaks On Presidency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says "deep down" he would like to be President, but if he had to decide today whether to seek the Presidency in 1976, the decision would be not to run.

Kennedy

The 42-year-old Massachusetts senator, consistently leading all potential candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination in the polls, gave the most precise description of his status to date in a broadcast interview PBS-"Washington Straight Talk" last night.

Kennedy was asked "would you, deep down, like to be President?"

"Yes," Kennedy replied.

"Don't come around wringing your hands and seeking pity in '75 and '76 if you don't do something to make sure your friends have a fair shake in the election of 1974," Ford said.

In a reference to the Nixon administration's handling of the Watergate scandal, he said, "Don't take out your moralistic attitude vis-a-vis the executive branch on elected members of the House and Senate.

Ford, appearing before a black tie dinner of the Economic Club of New York, made his remarks during a question-and-answer session with two panel members selected by the club.

While Ford seemed to be calling for backing of Republican candidates, he modified this in closing remarks by asking the business community to "judge them on how they vote and not whether they're Republican or Democrat."

Junta's Offer

LISBON (UPI) — The new military junta has offered to free guerrilla prisoners in Portugal's African territories if rebels fighting for independence lay down their arms in Angola, Mozambique and Guinea.

Gen. Francisco Costa Gomes, army chief of staff, returned yesterday from a two-day trip to Angola and told newsmen the junta's decision to free political prisoners did not to apply to African guerrillas.

"The amnesty does not cover guerrillas, but once the guerrilla movements lay down their arms the guerrillas imprisoned will be released," he said.

The general said his appeal to guerrillas in Angola to stop shooting and talk had been a definite offer of a cease-fire for all the territories.

Car Ambushed

BELFAST (UPI) — Gunmen ambushed a car traveling down a remote country road in Northern Ireland early today, killing a couple and wounding their daughter.

Authorities found the bodies of James Devlin, 45, and his wife Gertrude, 43, in a bullet-riddled car stopped along the road. Their 17-year-old daughter, Paricia, was reported in satisfactory condition.

In Belfast, army bomb experts defused 1,100 pounds of explosives and 10 mortar bombs packed into a panel truck and parked near city hall. The device was the biggest bomb uncovered in almost five years of Ulster strife.

The gunmen opened fire on the Devlin car near the family's home between Coalisland and Dungannon, about 40 miles southwest of Belfast, police said.

The slayings raised to 1,010 the death toll in nearly five years of violence among the Protestant majority, Catholic minority and security forces in Northern Ireland.

Truce Team Hit

SAIGON (UPI) — The South Vietnamese government told Communist members of the international truce team today to police the cease-fire or "take the next plane back to Budapest and Warsaw."

The criticism of Polish and Hungarian members of the four-power International Commission of Control and Supervision (ICCS) was triggered by the shelling of a Mekong Delta school last Saturday by eight Communist-made mortar rounds.

Eight children between the ages of 6 and 14 died and 31 other pupils were wounded in the attack at Song Phu village, 68 miles southwest of Saigon.

Indonesian and Iranian members of the ICCS team in the Song Phu area went to the village to investigate the shelling, but officers from Poland and Hungary stayed away.

"The refusal to carry out their job was irresponsible," said government spokesman Bui Bao Truc.

He declared, "The work of the ICCS is to monitor the cease-fire. The Hungarians and Poles will have to choose either to work seriously or take the next plane back to Budapest and Warsaw."

Ford's Warning

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vice President Gerald Ford told business leaders last night they should not let "moralistic" feelings toward the White House affect their vote in this year's Congressional elections. He suggested they vote Republican for their own good.

Support Sought

PARIS (UPI) — Communist-backed Socialist Francois Mitterrand and conservative Valery Giscard d'Estaing went to work behind the scenes today to line up support for their coming runoff presidential election.

Although the official one-week campaign for the May 19 electon begins next Friday, Giscard d'Estaing and Mitterrand were already maneuvering to pick up backers of the 10 losing candidates in last Sunday's first-round vote.

Political analysts predicted a close runoff.

Mitterrand, who led Sunday with 43 per cent of the vote but failed to get a winning majority, appealed to both moderates and extreme leftists for the extra support needed to put him over the top.

Giscard d'Estaing went after the all-important bloc of votes for official Gaullist candidate Jacques Chaban-Delmas, who placed a poor third Sunday with 15 per cent of the vote.

Giscard d'Estaing, who came in second with 33 per cent, needs solid support from the Gaullist party he dethroned.

A Vermeer Painting Recovered

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard reported today the recovery of a $4.8 million Vermeer painting stolen last February and held for a political ransom.

The art work, "The Guitar Player," was found in St. Bartholomew's Churchyard in the City of London Monday night after an anonymous tip to police, Scotland Yard said.

Anonymous telephone callers threatened to burn it on St. Patrick's Day unless the British government transferred to a Northern Ireland prison two Irish sisters, Marian and Doulors Price, who had received life sentences for planting bombs in London in March, 1973.

The sisters had gone on a hunger strike and were reported forcibly fed.

The British government rejected the ultimatum.

FBI Finds SLA Weapon Pieces

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) The apartment hideout abandoned more than a week ago by the Symbionese Liberation Army, which kidnaped Patricia Hearst, was used as an armory, it was disclosed today.

Investigators said pieces of weapons were found in the debris left there, which explained drilling and other noises heard by neighbors.

This indicated, sources said, the SLA might be planning another action —perhaps one like its April 15 bank holdup, which netted a nine-member team $10,960. Miss Hearst, 20, was with the robbers and carried a rifle.

A grocer in the neighborhood said a woman matching Miss Hearst's description shopped several times in her store and apparently was alone.

In tape-recorded messages, Miss Hearst has said she voluntarily joined the SLA as a "soldier" and denounced her family. Her father, Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of The San Francisco Examiner, said he believes his daughter was the victim of "mind control."

Meanwhile, FBI agents said they were trying to find a complete set of Miss Hearst's fingerprints. If the prints are found and they match those found in the apartment, her presence there would be confirmed.

Wheat Reporting To Go Metric Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of quintals of wheat per hectare will be of major concern to farmers tomorrow when the Agriculture Department releases its regular May crop reports.

With tomorrow's report, the Department enters the metric age, in which quintals correspond with bushels and hectares with acres.

For 110 years, the department has been issuing crop reports using familiar units like the bushel, pound, bale and acre. But starting tomorrow the Crop Reporting Board will also include for the first time crop estimates in terms of metric units.

The May report will include, for example, an estimate of the 1974 winter wheat crop both in millions of bushels and in millions of metric tons. Wheat acreage for harvest will be shown both in millions of acres and millions of hectares, which equal 2.471 acres. Yields will be reported both in the traditional bushels, pounds and hundredweight per acre and in the metric measure of quintals per hectare.

A quintal, which equals 220.46 pounds, is equivalent to 3.67 bushels of wheat or 2.2046 hundredweight of potatoes.

Crop Reporting Board officials said they decided to add metric units to the traditional reports because most of the rest of the world uses the metric system and there has been widespread interest in matching U.S. data to other world figures.

Eventually, if use of the metric system becomes common in this country, the metric units could be used in U.S. crops exclusively.

Kentfield Board Will Eye Budget

A proposed 1974-75 budget of $1,793,900, up $128,730 over this year's spending plan, will be reviewed by Kentfield School District trustees when they meet today at 8 p.m. in Bacich School.

Prepared by Supt. Eugene C. Peters, the budget includes annual step raises of 2.5 per cent for teachers but no cost-of-living raises. The step raises and addition of two counselors, a school principal and a clerk account for $120,160 of the increase.

In addition to step raises, teachers have asked for 12 per cent cost-of-living raises plus a 6 per cent hike in the salary schedule. Peters said each additional 1 per cent granted in raises would add $15,000 to the budget, thus putting the teachers' request at about $270,000.

Other increases in the budget are due to inflation, which has increased utility costs by 5 per cent and material supplies by 10 per cent, according to Peters.

Teachers and administrators salaries, $1,172,060 ($1,072,120); nonteaching salaries, $234,290 ($214,070); employee benefits, $138,970 ($114,580); books, instructional supplies and equipment replacement, $108,325 ($97,425); contracts personal services, $33,130 ($31,850); travel, conferences and other reimbursement expenses, $10,105 ($8,440); dues and memberships, $1,000 ($900); insurance, $6,000 ($7,000); utilities and housekeeping services, $36,420 ($34,870); contracts, rents and leases $13,145 ($12,400); legal, election and audit, $3,300 ($1,500); new sites and improvement of sites and buildings, $12,045 ($48,000); equipment, $17,110 ($14,015); transfers, $8,000 ($8,000).

Historical Building Ordinance Approved By Petaluma Council

Petaluma's historical building preservation ordinance was unanimously approved last night by the city council. (Another Petaluma City Council story, page 1)

Among its supporters was Councilman Fred V. Mattei, who earlier opposed it because he felt owners of businesses might be forced to participate in preservation districts against their will, thus being prevented from modernizing their buildings.

Since then, the council, after discussions with business leaders, modified the ordinance to allow creation of preservation districts only in residential areas where "a number of structures having special character" stand closely together.

In business areas buildings will be evaluated individually rather than in batches.

In both residential and commercial areas, individual requests for historic zoning are to be taken first to an historical preservation committee for initial review, then to the planning commission for further study and public hearings. The commission then passes its recommendation to the city council, which makes the final decision.

Like other zoning matters, the ordinance is to be enforced by inspections and by municipal review of proposed changes to historically zoned structures.

The ordinance was proposed by the mayor's select committee on historical preservation, and is designed to save many of the Victorian-era buildings in western Petaluma.

A 30-Day Jail Term Ordered

A Sausalito artist must serve 30 days in jail and spend one year on probation for her part in a drugs-by-mail scheme, a Marin Superior Court judge ruled yesterday.

Frances Elizabeth Lettmoden, 21, drew the sentence from Judge Charles Read Best on her guilty plea to possession of marijuana.

Best said the offense will be reduced to a misdemeanor if Miss Lettmoden successfully completes probation.

Sausalito police arrested the College of Marin student Nov. 21 after she accepted delivery of a package containing more than three ounces of hashish mailed from Amsterdam.

A Dinner Cruise

The Petaluma City Council Also:

FEES — Refused to lower bedroom tax fees for Young America Homes, which asked the reduction in its Greenbriar subdivision near East Washington Street in exchange for a strip of parkland dedicated to the city. The fees are needed to develop the strip, the council decided.

CABS — Heard Councilman John W. Cavanagh Jr. report that local taxicab companies will shortly ask the council for increased fare rates. None have been granted in eight years.

EMBLEM — Awarded medallions to the winner and runners-up in the Petaluma Bicentennial Committee's emblem design contest.

MICROFILM — Agreed to consider buying microfilm equipment for city hall without taking bids, since only one brand of machine appears suitable for the city's needs.

SEWER FEES — Directed city attorney Edouard E. Robert to draft an ordinance raising outside sewer connection charges, with the present $75 per one-family unit to be used as a base for discussion.

HOOKUP — Told Penngrove residents Petaluma is unable to honor their request for connection with its sewage plant because of the unsettled state of the city's planning efforts in light of the federal court decision against limited growth.

LIGHTS — Adopted an ordinance allowing searchlights at grand opening celebrations of businesses.

IMPACT — Approved an environmental impact report for a medical office complex planned near Ely Road and East Washington Street.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 7:30 p.m. May 20.

HOLLYWOOD HOLOCAUST — Flames and smoke billowed from a sound stage at Samuel Goldwyn movie studio yesterday as fire and a series of explosions did an estimated $2 million damage to the stage, where such movies as "Guys and Dolls," "West Side Story" and "The Best Years of Our Lives" were made. (AP Wirephoto)

Goldwyn Studio Fire Does Heavy Damage

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A multimillion dollar fire burned two sound stages to the ground at famed Sam Goldwyn Studios yesterday, injuring three persons and routing scores of others from the filming of a children's television show.

It was one of Hollywood's worst studio fires since 1958 when a blaze at the same studio destroyed the film set of "Porgy and Bess," causing $5 million damage.

A force of 250 firemen fought the blaze Monday, which broke out in Studio 5 during the filming of the children's show "Sigmund and the Sea Monsters" in which one of the monsters was about to emerge from a cave.

Suddenly, smoke began to belch from the cave and flames shot out.

"We ran for our lives," said director John Carr, one of 60 persons on the set at the time. "Then the walls came tumbling down."

The Los Angeles County Fire Department, which declared the blaze controlled four hours after it broke out at 4 p.m., said cause apparently was a short circuit that occurred when a light was switched on on the set.

Sound stages 4 and 5, the nostalgic homes of such films as "Porgy and Bess" and "Best Years of Our Lives," were destroyed and executive offices in a three-story building adjacent to it were heavily damaged.

"The loss could run over $2 million," a county fire spokesman said.

Fire officials said two production employes suffered burns in the blaze, the mostly seriously injured identified as Michael Greslin, 29, Sun Valley, Calif.

Greslin was reported in critical condition at County-USC Medical Center. Names of the other two victims were not immediately released.

Actress Ali McGraw and actor Steve McQueen were among those in the huge crowd that watched the fire fighting operations.

Actor Robert Conrad of the old "Wild Wild West" television series said he was in one of the executive offices when the fire broke out, but stayed thinking it would be quickly controlled.

"Then the walls collapsed around me and I got out of there," he said.

Syrian, Israeli Forces Duel For Mount Hermon

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Syrian and Israeli forces went into the ninth week of their Golan Heights war of attrition today with artillery duels for control of strategic Mount Hermon.

A military communiqe in Damascus said the pre-dawn clashes on 9,232-foot Mt. Hermon, which looks down on Israel, Syria and Lebanon, "extended to other parts of the front" during the morning.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said yesterday "it's hard to point to real progress in the negotiations with the Syrians."

Syrian Defense Minister Mustafa Tlas visited his troops on Mount Hermon last night and praised their "heroic steadfastness," the official Syrian Arab News Agency reported.

Israel reported shooting down one of four Syrian warplanes on a strafing mission yesterday. Syria reported downing four Israeli jets. Both nations denied any losses.

On the ground, Syria said its artillery knocked out three Israeli anti-tank rocket bases, a field artillery gun and an ammunition depot. Israel reported one of its soldiers killed by artillery.

Military correspondents in Tel Aviv said Israel has stiffened terms for troop separation and may now want to keep some strategic positions captured in the 1973 Middle East War in exchange for returning less vital areas taken in 1967.

Train Thief Must Find A Country

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Great Train Robbery fugitive Ronald Biggs, a man in search of a country, set out today with Brazil's blessings to find a haven from Scotland Yard detectives.

The Brazilian government released Biggs from jail last night and gave the elusive fugitive 30 days of "semiliberty" to search for a country willing to take him in.

The government turned down a Scotland Yard request for Biggs' extradition, but said he would be deported to Britain for entering Brazil illegally if he failed to find a nation to accept him by the deadline.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Chicago Mayor Is In Hospital

CHICAGO (UPI) — Mayor Richard J. Daley, last of the big city political bosses, was in the hospital today for tests to identify what reportedly might be an abnormal blood condition.

Daley

The 71-year-old mayor, kingpin of Chicago's Democratic organization, went unexpectedly to Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital at mid-day Monday with his physician, Dr. Thomas J. Coogan Jr., a specialist in internal medicine.

It was the first night Daley has spent in a hospital in nearly 20 years as mayor. His wife, Eleanor, whom he affectionately calls "Sis," spent the night at his side.

Kennedy Speaks On Presidency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says "deep down" he would like to be President, but if he had to decide today whether to seek the Presidency in 1976, the decision would be not to run.

Kennedy

The 42-year-old Massachusetts senator, consistently leading all potential candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination in the polls, gave the most precise description of his status to date in a broadcast interview PBS-"Washington Straight Talk" last night.

Kennedy was asked "would you, deep down, like to be President?"

"Yes," Kennedy replied.

"Don't come around wringing your hands and seeking pity in '75 and '76 if you don't do something to make sure your friends have a fair shake in the election of 1974," Ford said.

In a reference to the Nixon administration's handling of the Watergate scandal, he said, "Don't take out your moralistic attitude vis-a-vis the executive branch on elected members of the House and Senate.

Ford, appearing before a black tie dinner of the Economic Club of New York, made his remarks during a question-and-answer session with two panel members selected by the club.

While Ford seemed to be calling for backing of Republican candidates, he modified this in closing remarks by asking the business community to "judge them on how they vote and not whether they're Republican or Democrat."

Junta's Offer

LISBON (UPI) — The new military junta has offered to free guerrilla prisoners in Portugal's African territories if rebels fighting for independence lay down their arms in Angola, Mozambique and Guinea.

Gen. Francisco Costa Gomes, army chief of staff, returned yesterday from a two-day trip to Angola and told newsmen the junta's decision to free political prisoners did not to apply to African guerrillas.

"The amnesty does not cover guerrillas, but once the guerrilla movements lay down their arms the guerrillas imprisoned will be released," he said.

The general said his appeal to guerrillas in Angola to stop shooting and talk had been a definite offer of a cease-fire for all the territories.

Car Ambushed

BELFAST (UPI) — Gunmen ambushed a car traveling down a remote country road in Northern Ireland early today, killing a couple and wounding their daughter.

Authorities found the bodies of James Devlin, 45, and his wife Gertrude, 43, in a bullet-riddled car stopped along the road. Their 17-year-old daughter, Paricia, was reported in satisfactory condition.

In Belfast, army bomb experts defused 1,100 pounds of explosives and 10 mortar bombs packed into a panel truck and parked near city hall. The device was the biggest bomb uncovered in almost five years of Ulster strife.

The gunmen opened fire on the Devlin car near the family's home between Coalisland and Dungannon, about 40 miles southwest of Belfast, police said.

The slayings raised to 1,010 the death toll in nearly five years of violence among the Protestant majority, Catholic minority and security forces in Northern Ireland.

Truce Team Hit

SAIGON (UPI) — The South Vietnamese government told Communist members of the international truce team today to police the cease-fire or "take the next plane back to Budapest and Warsaw."

The criticism of Polish and Hungarian members of the four-power International Commission of Control and Supervision (ICCS) was triggered by the shelling of a Mekong Delta school last Saturday by eight Communist-made mortar rounds.

Eight children between the ages of 6 and 14 died and 31 other pupils were wounded in the attack at Song Phu village, 68 miles southwest of Saigon.

Indonesian and Iranian members of the ICCS team in the Song Phu area went to the village to investigate the shelling, but officers from Poland and Hungary stayed away.

"The refusal to carry out their job was irresponsible," said government spokesman Bui Bao Truc.

He declared, "The work of the ICCS is to monitor the cease-fire. The Hungarians and Poles will have to choose either to work seriously or take the next plane back to Budapest and Warsaw."

Ford's Warning

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vice President Gerald Ford told business leaders last night they should not let "moralistic" feelings toward the White House affect their vote in this year's Congressional elections. He suggested they vote Republican for their own good.

A Vermeer Painting Recovered

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard reported today the recovery of a $4.8 million Vermeer painting stolen last February and held for a political ransom.

The art work, "The Guitar Player," was found in St. Bartholomew's Churchyard in the City of London Monday night after an anonymous tip to police, Scotland Yard said.

Anonymous telephone callers threatened to burn it on St. Patrick's Day unless the British government transferred to a Northern Ireland prison two Irish sisters, Marian and Doulors Price, who had received life sentences for planting bombs in London in March, 1973.

The sisters had gone on a hunger strike and were reported forcibly fed.

The British government rejected the ultimatum.

FBI Finds SLA Weapon Pieces

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) The apartment hideout abandoned more than a week ago by the Symbionese Liberation Army, which kidnaped Patricia Hearst, was used as an armory, it was disclosed today.

Investigators said pieces of weapons were found in the debris left there, which explained drilling and other noises heard by neighbors.

This indicated, sources said, the SLA might be planning another action —perhaps one like its April 15 bank holdup, which netted a nine-member team $10,960. Miss Hearst, 20, was with the robbers and carried a rifle.

A grocer in the neighborhood said a woman matching Miss Hearst's description shopped several times in her store and apparently was alone.

In tape-recorded messages, Miss Hearst has said she voluntarily joined the SLA as a "soldier" and denounced her family. Her father, Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of The San Francisco Examiner, said he believes his daughter was the victim of "mind control."

Meanwhile, FBI agents said they were trying to find a complete set of Miss Hearst's fingerprints. If the prints are found and they match those found in the apartment, her presence there would be confirmed.

Support Sought

PARIS (UPI) — Communist-backed Socialist Francois Mitterrand and conservative Valery Giscard d'Estaing went to work behind the scenes today to line up support for their coming runoff presidential election.

Although the official one-week campaign for the May 19 electon begins next Friday, Giscard d'Estaing and Mitterrand were already maneuvering to pick up backers of the 10 losing candidates in last Sunday's first-round vote.

Political analysts predicted a close runoff.

Mitterrand, who led Sunday with 43 per cent of the vote but failed to get a winning majority, appealed to both moderates and extreme leftists for the extra support needed to put him over the top.

Giscard d'Estaing went after the all-important bloc of votes for official Gaullist candidate Jacques Chaban-Delmas, who placed a poor third Sunday with 15 per cent of the vote.

Giscard d'Estaing, who came in second with 33 per cent, needs solid support from the Gaullist party he dethroned.

Wheat Reporting To Go Metric Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of quintals of wheat per hectare will be of major concern to farmers tomorrow when the Agriculture Department releases its regular May crop reports.

With tomorrow's report, the Department enters the metric age, in which quintals correspond with bushels and hectares with acres.

For 110 years, the department has been issuing crop reports using familiar units like the bushel, pound, bale and acre. But starting tomorrow the Crop Reporting Board will also include for the first time crop estimates in terms of metric units.

The May report will include, for example, an estimate of the 1974 winter wheat crop both in millions of bushels and in millions of metric tons. Wheat acreage for harvest will be shown both in millions of acres and millions of hectares, which equal 2.471 acres. Yields will be reported both in the traditional bushels, pounds and hundredweight per acre and in the metric measure of quintals per hectare.

A quintal, which equals 220.46 pounds, is equivalent to 3.67 bushels of wheat or 2.2046 hundredweight of potatoes.

Crop Reporting Board officials said they decided to add metric units to the traditional reports because most of the rest of the world uses the metric system and there has been widespread interest in matching U.S. data to other world figures.

Eventually, if use of the metric system becomes common in this country, the metric units could be used in U.S. crops exclusively.

Kentfield Board Will Eye Budget

A proposed 1974-75 budget of $1,793,900, up $128,730 over this year's spending plan, will be reviewed by Kentfield School District trustees when they meet today at 8 p.m. in Bacich School.

Prepared by Supt. Eugene C. Peters, the budget includes annual step raises of 2.5 per cent for teachers but no cost-of-living raises. The step raises and addition of two counselors, a school principal and a clerk account for $120,160 of the increase.

In addition to step raises, teachers have asked for 12 per cent cost-of-living raises plus a 6 per cent hike in the salary schedule. Peters said each additional 1 per cent granted in raises would add $15,000 to the budget, thus putting the teachers' request at about $270,000.

Other increases in the budget are due to inflation, which has increased utility costs by 5 per cent and material supplies by 10 per cent, according to Peters.

Teachers and administrators salaries, $1,172,060 ($1,072,120); nonteaching salaries, $234,290 ($214,070); employee benefits, $138,970 ($114,580); books, instructional supplies and equipment replacement, $108,325 ($97,425); contracts personal services, $33,130 ($31,850); travel, conferences and other reimbursement expenses, $10,105 ($8,440); dues and memberships, $1,000 ($900); insurance, $6,000 ($7,000); utilities and housekeeping services, $36,420 ($34,870); contracts, rents and leases $13,145 ($12,400); legal, election and audit, $3,300 ($1,500); new sites and improvement of sites and buildings, $12,045 ($48,000); equipment, $17,110 ($14,015); transfers, $8,000 ($8,000).

Transit Panel Backs Ending Cost Formula

State legislation to do away with a transit cost-sharing formula between the county and Golden Gate Bridge District was endorsed today by the Marin County Transit District board.

The legislation, an amendment to Assembly Bill 3595, was to be introduced today by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco. It was to be considered by the Assembly Transportation Committee.

According to director Gary T. Giacomini, the amendment would save Marin about $350,000 next year if approved by the Legislature and signed by the governor.

That is the amount Marin will otherwise owe the bridge district for local passengers who board and get off transbay commute buses without leaving the county.

The complicated formula has been in dispute for two years.

The bridge district and the financially troubled county transit district reached a compromise last year over the formula, agreeing Marin would pay only $85,000 this year.

Another compromise was in the works for next year in which the county would pay $210,000, but that has been withdrawn by the bridge district.

The transit board's vote was unanimous to support Burton's amendment, which, in effect, would change the law under which the bridge district operates its buses.

Director Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., who in the past has supported the formula, went along with today's vote. He later told the Independent-Journal he did so because he needs Giacomini's vote to oppose another bill pending in the Legislature.

That bill, by Sen. Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, would keep the bridge district from building docking facilities for its new ferries until next May.

Arrigoni, who is also a bridge district director, called the marks bill a "political ploy" by Harbor Tours, a private ferry operation, to keep the bridge district from getting into the ferry business.

He said Marks' motives may stem from hopes of receiving political support from Harbor Tours in his bid for the mayor's job in San Francisco.

Chairman Michael Wornum said the Marks will was an attempt by San Francisco to delay the district ferry operation since attempts to kill it in the past had failed. "If you can't kill something, the next best thing is to delay it," Wornum said.

On Arrigoni's motion, the transit board voted 5-to-1 to oppose the bill, with director Robert A. Roumiguiere abstaining.

Director Arnold M. Baptiste voted against the motion saying he perferred to wait until a study of bridge district spending is completed by Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post.

Energy Act Signature Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon put off for three hours today the signing of the Federal Energy Administration Act because of a $198 million typographical error.

The noontime signing had been scheduled before it was discovered that the bill carried an error listing an appropriation for $2 million when it should have been $200 million, according to Gerald L. Warren, deputy press secretary.

Warren said Congress asked that the bill be returned to Capitol Hill for correction.

The legislation formally creates the Federal Energy Administration, succeeding the Federal Energy Office that Nixon established last year by executive order. The agency is the main administrator of federal energy programs, including allocation of gasoline to the states.

The new director of the energy office, John C. Sawhill, and Frank G. Zarb of the Office of Management and Budget appeared before the House subcommittee on energy today to voice administration backing for a bill to fund research into producing energy from the earth's hot subsurface rocks and natural steam.

As the President prepared to sign the act, the American Automobile Association reported that its latest survey of gasoline availability showed that supplies continue to improve slightly throughout the nation, while a predicted rise in prices has not yet taken place.

APPEAL

to serve water to whoever wants it, even if it means we must ration. The same with sewers. I don't see how we can accept this without questioning it.

"We're going to accept growth. We know that. But surely we've got to be able to control it somewhere along the line."

Councilman James L. Harberson described the case as one of "local control versus mandates by a regional government" and said it would be "ludicrous" for Petaluma to accept Burke's decision "lying down."

Mayor Helen Putnam, in an apparent effort to soothe Cavanagh, said that the right to disagree is fundamental and that in this case "the judge himself indicated it could go to the supreme court."

The resolution adopted did not specify where the appeal will be taken, although a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals would be the next level in the federal judiciary.

Before voting, the council met in closed session for nearly an hour to discuss the case with Attorney Robert T. Anderson of Oakland, a municipal law specialist hired to defend Petaluma in the suit. Anderson has told city officials he will represent them in the appeal.

Budget For Summer School Set

Sausalito School District trustees last night approved a tentative summer school budget of $10,000, the same as last year. The summer session begins June 19.

Trustees also accepted an $8,945 bid by Lund Associates for district insurance for 1974-75.

They accepted the resignation of teacher Barbara Zimmer and approved spending $1,000 for two teachers to attend a reading workshop June 17 and 18.

Following the public meeting, trustees met in closed session to instruct the district negotiator in salary talks with teachers and other school personnel.

The meeting was adjourned to 7:30 p.m. May 16, when trustees will review the district's budget proposal for 1974-75.

Magee In A Tantrum In Court

Magee lunged at his defense attorney, public defender Sheldon Portman, shouting obscenities and threatening him.

Portman skipped behind a barrier in the courtroom as four bailiffs pounced on Magee, handcuffing him and hauling him away.

As he was dragged away, the convict shouted to spectators in the courtroom to "get a gun and kill Portman."

Superior Judge William A. Ingram adjourned the session for the day.

Magee has a lengthy record of violent courtroom antics in a series of trials stemming from incidents in San Quentin. He has repeatedly rejected court-appointed attorneys and has been ruled incompetent to defend himself.

In the 1970 shootout, four persons were killed, one of them Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley, who was abducted from his courtroom.

Man Held In Money Probe

A 20 year-old San Rafael man was arrested early this morning on suspicion of taking money from a room at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael.

David Lee McMillin, 20, of 14 LaBrea Way, was held in Marin County jail with bail not set yet to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

According to police, Daniel Campbell, owner of the bar at 711 Fourth Street was working late when he saw McMillin leave the upstairs of the bar. Campbell discovered the loss of the money and chased McMillan, arresting him at Fourth and Hetherton streets.

SCHOOL

to protest against Supt. Peter Palches' decision to appoint Homestead School principal James McDonough to the vice principalship, the board voted unanimously in favor of the transfer.

Edward J. Conroy, president of the Mill Valley Teachers Association and Middle School teacher, said his group had voted to join Middle School faculty in opposing the move. "I've never seen the Middle School teachers so upset about anything before," he said.

Middle School teacher Martha Robinson argued, "We could at least have been asked if this is the best solution to our problems there."

Teachers have said that the district should not create a new administrative position at a time when teachers are being laid off because of declining enrollment.

Palches presented a written statement explaining that the move was based partly on the present high ration of students to administrators at the school —575 to one. He said it was also difficult for the present principal and vice principal alone to keep track of faculty quality.

He argued that the recent resignation of his own assistant at district headquarters, Betty Grimm, had made room in the district for McDonough's new post.

The meeting had led off with complaints from several parents that the administrative problem at Middle School was only one fraction of the difficulties there.

Joseph Marshall, parent of a seventh grader, said that after a recent open house at the school, "I, like Dr. Spock, reversed myself from a liberal philosophy of handling children to a rigid one. I found the conduct very slovenly there."

Eileen Bach-y-Rita said, "I really went home very depressed. I found a lot of ditto sheets, busy work and very little dynamic teaching going on."

Palches also read letters from several parents of students at Tamalpais Valley Elementary School who said they would send their children to private schools rather than let them go to the Middle School when those children complete fifth grade.

Complaints centered on overcrowding, lack of discipline in hallways and bathrooms, scheduling conflicts and a confusing architectural layout for the school.

Trustees Joseph E. Bodovitz and Thomas D. Spencer pressed for a special board meeting to air all school problems.

Palches said he favored instead appointing committees to study the school more gradually. "We don't want this to be a crash program; this is tremendously complex."

But Spencer said it was necessary to move faster. "We have many terribly angry people here."

The board then decided to devote its meeting to May 20 meeting at the school and urged faculty, parents and adminsitrators to come in with solutions and not just complaints.

The board also heard from Palches that because of resignations and leaves taken by other teachers, only six teachers will have to be laid off instead of nine as originally expected. The six are Sarah Toughill, Johnny Gentry, Lynea Katayama, Bruce Kuschner and Marianne Lustig, all of Middle School, and Donna Lifshin of Old Mill School.

Palches said that because most of the layoffs are at Middle School, several elementary level teachers will have to be transferred to it.

Conroy told the board that teachers want an 8.2 per cent cost of living increase for next year. Palches reported that he has not computed yet what these increases will mean to the individual teacher and how much they would cost the district on the whole.

Jail Sentences For Taking Ring

A San Rafael couple received identical six-month county jail sentences yesterday after pleading guilty to grand theft in the taking of an engagement ring from a jewelry store.

Victor Richard Brunal, 20, and Dee Dee Brunal, also known as Delores Lynn De Rosa, 24, also were placed on two years' probation by Superior Court Judge Charles Read Best. They were arrested in March following an investigation by San Rafael police into the Feb. 4 theft of a gold ring valued at $845 from Gensler Lee Diamonds in San Rafael.

The couple pawned the ring later that day for $30, according to a probation report.

over the proposal Torrey made last month in which he said teachers would have to accept 4 per cent in order to assure that no teachers would be fired. Since that time, trustees have agreed to rehire 38 teachers and administrators who had been previously notified they might not be rehired.

The biggest savings identified by Torrey were reducing district reserves by an additional $150,000 ($100,000 was suggested for removal in the first proposal) and cutting the maintenance and equipment allowances to the schools by $105,520 by reducing the allotment per student from $100 to $55.

"I think it could be justified this year because the $100 is high and we have had the advantage over 15 years of spending well in that area," Torrey said of the maintenance and equipment allowance. "We are well stocked in text books and have good equipment. I think we are in fair shape to operate next year in this category at a significantly reduced level."

Torrey's new proposal also includes a saving of $15,000 by reducing bus service to the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area. He said some students would have to ride public transit but said the proposal is still under study and no further details or figures are available yet.

Other savings he identified to grant the 8 per cent raise are: move library processing center from rented quarters, $1,500; eliminate followup study on graduates, $5,500; reduce school telephone expenses, $5,000; reduce district office expenses, $5,000; miscellaneous, $2,480.

Judge Orders Youth Released

A Novato youth has been released from county jail after drawing a sentence for the theft of a car from a Novato service station lot.

Randall Boyd Loock, 18, was released Friday after Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson sentenced him to the amount of time he had served since his arrest Nov. 13.

Wilson found Loock guilty of the theft following a one-day trial without a jury in March.

The youth was arrested when a Novato policeman saw him driving a car stolen Nov. 9 from Country Club Shell, 5821 Redwood Highway.

Chamber Music Concert Is Set

A chamber music concert sponsored by the Mill Valley Art Commission will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

The performance is one of a series organized by the Mill Valley Chamber Music Society under the direction of flutist David Subke of Mill Valley, a performer with the Oakland Symphony.

Selections this week will include three songs from William Shakespeare by Stravinsky, songs of Eric Satie and piano preludes by Debussy.

see any felonies there."

Brennan strongly defended Nixon, and when asked if the President was too busy with Watergate to devote proper time to economic problems, he replied heatedly: "If he doesn't solve 45 problems before breakfast every morning, then he's no good. If he does, he's a dictator."

At another point, he said Nixon is "human" and that "nobody's perfect or infallible."

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz sniffed that he had only read a page or two "then I turned it over to my general counsel to look over."

Secretary Casper Weinberger of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said he has so concentrated on HEW programs he had not time to glean through the voluminous document.

"Am I in it?" asked Housing Secretary James T. Lynn.

"No," said a reporter.

"Good," said Lynn, grinning.

Hanna Ranch Plan Before City Council

A proposal to split the master plan for the 127-acre Hanna Ranch development will be presented to the Novato City Council at 8 p.m. today at the Novato Community House.

Planning Commissioners agreed last night to propose to the council that there be two master plans for the land east of Highway 101 between Novato Creek and Highway 37.

One plan would cover 50 to 55 acres north of Lynwood Slough, where commercial and industrial development is planned. The other would cover the rest of the land, south of Lynwood Slough, where a hotel-convention center, office park, golf clubhouse and ice skating rink are planned.

Planner Michael J. Harlock said the choice to split the plan was made because some of the uses planned for the southern end of the property wouldn't be permitted under Marin County's air safety zoning. The southern end of the parcel is only a short distance from Hamilton Air Force Base.

Trees From Estate To Be Sold

Bonsai trees from the estate of a Strawberry gardener who died in December will be sold at auction beginning at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Some 350 trees — fir, spruce and cedar — ranging up to several feet high will be sold by the Marin Public Administrator's office.

The rare and valuable trees are from the colletion of Leon Gagne, a reclusive landscaper and gardener who left an estate valued at $200,000 when he died.

The public administrator's office thinks it has found several cousins in England, and the proceeds of the auction will go to them.

After accounts of Gagne's tree collection were published in January, 29 trees were stolen from his yard in Strawberry, the sheriff's department said.

Saturday's auction will be preceded by a preview from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday and from 9 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Youth Receives Additional Time

A 19-year-old Mill Valley youth, who pleaded guilty to possessing a weapon while in Marin County Jail on a grand theft charge, was sentenced to 30 more days behind bars yesterday.

Thomas William Duerner, also was placed on a year's probation by Superior Court Judge Charles Read Best.

At the time, the youth was serving three months for stealing a rifle from an acquaintance at a party.

House Panel Backs Chicken Payments

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Agriculture Committee has approved a Senate-passed bill to pay Mississippi chicken farmers for millions of chickens killed because of pesticide contamination.

The bill included an amendment to limit total federal spending in the Mississippi case and any other similar incidents this year to a combined total of not more than $10 million.

ELMER FRAASS

Elmer Fraass of Belvedere died yesterday in Greensboro, N.C., while on a business trip, his family reported yesterday.

Fraass, 57, was a buyer for Lachman Brothers Furniture.

He was born in New York City, and moved to Marin County in 1947. He was a volunteer member and past president of the Belvedere Fire Department.

He is survived by his wife, Frances Crosby Fraass of the home; two sons, Robert C. Fraass of Santa Barbara and William D. Fraass of Sausalito, and one brother, Benedick Fraass of Corona Del Mar.

The body will be cremated and ashes will be scattered at sea.

HERBERT ROSS

Funeral was today for Herbert I. Ross of Belvedere, a San Francisco insurance broker.

Ross, 60, died Sunday at a San Francisco hospital after becoming ill suddenly while sailing his Pacific Clipper, Shiranami, near the San Francisco Yacht Club.

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in Belvedere for three years and resided at 14 Cove Road.

He was a graduate of the University of San Francisco.

Ross served in the U.S. Army counterintelligence corps in World War II in Leyte, Okinawa and Korea.

He began his insurance career in 1930 with A. S. Rosenbaum and Co., a brokerage firm founded by his grandfather.

At the time of his death he was a partner in the firm of Dinner, Levison.

He was a member of the San Francisco Yacht Club and was a past president of the San Francisco Hearing Society.

Survivors include his wife, Denise Coblentz Ross of Belvedere; two sons, John and Frederick Ross, both of San Francisco; three stepsons, Denis, Edmond and James Russell of San Francisco, and a stepdaughter, Carolyn Russell of San Francisco.

The family has asked that memorial contributions be made to the San Francisco Hearing Society.

Building Ban Before Council

A building moratorium for three areas eyed by the city for open space will be considered by the Sausalito City Council at 8 p.m. today in the auditorium at Central School on Caledonia Street.

Councilmen also will consider adopting guidelines for allowing the conversion of rental apartments to condominiums.

The council will meet in closed session at 7 p.m. to interview applicants for the planning and parks and recreation commissions, and in open session at 7:30 p.m. as the city's redevelopment agency.

Hotel Started

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Workmen are laying the foundations for a new 350-room Budapest Hilton Hotel due for completion in the first half of 1976. Because the six-story building is being fitted into an historic site on the Buda Castle Hill, it will have a Gothic facade and will be built around the nave of a medieval church.

14 Jobs Slashed In Tam District

Tamalpais High School District schools will have nine fewer teachers and five fewer administrators eventually, district trustees decided last night.

Even though trustees last month agreed to rehire 38 teachers and administrators who had been notified they would not be rehired next year, the board last night eliminated some of the teachers and administrators' positions.

The effect, according to Edward J. Neumeier, district administrative assistant, will be that 9.2 teaching positions and 5.6 administrative slots will not be filled as persons retire or leave the district.

Another 19.6 teaching and administrative positions previously marked for elimination were restored and can be refilled should there be a vacancy.

The board heard strong opposition to eliminating the positions from Donald Kreps, Redwood High School principal, and Frank Gold, teacher union president. Both urged that an extensive staff study be made before any position is eliminated, accoridng to Neumeier.

Trustees rehired Tamalpais High School shop teacher Andre Sobieski whose one-year contract expires this year, yielding to urging from teachers, students and parents.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

REDEVELOPMENT — Directed staff to draft a position statement for trustees opposing redevelopment in any city within the district because it would deprive the district of revenue from increases in assessed valuation and force the district to raise its tax rate to compensate.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Sir Francis Drake High School teacher Arlene S. Toda, who had been with the district 28 years, and Drake High nurse Jeanne Zunino, who had been with the district 33 years.

CONFERENCE — Tabled until May 20 a request by trustee Bette Wallace for reimbursement of $428.01 expenses incurred while attending the National School Board Association convention in Houston last month.

COURSES — Approved new courses in career typing, college preparatory English workshop, calculus, violence in America (social studies) and cross-age teaching and independent study in the natural environment.

SEWER — Approved an easement for the Ross Valley Sanitary District at Sir Francis Drake High School for sewer repair.

CIRCUS — Granted the request of the Mill Valley Volunteer Fire Department to hold a circus on the Tamalpais High School athletic field June 2.

SCHOOLS — Called for bids on Redwood High School athletic field rehabilitation and paving and painting at district schools.

CONTINUATION — Added $1,098 to the continuation school project on Redwood property to include a backflow prevention valve to water line.

CLOSED — Met in closed session to instruct its salary negotiator.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to May 20 at 8 p.m. in the Redwood High School faculty lounge.

Panel To Hold Meeting Tonight

Marin County Redevelopment Agency directors will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. today in the agency-s office at 47 Paul Drive, San Rafael.

The meeting, in lieu of a regular meeting May 3 that was canceled, will complete formalities on the sale and development of the Marin City ridgelands, according to Wallace K. Shepherd, agency director.

The redevelopment agency's jurisdiction over the former federally owned lands will be handed over to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, to watchdog the construction and sale of 389 townhouses and apartments on the 30-acre parcel, in a $14 million project by Highlands Associates.

Sharon Fox Runnerup In Junior Miss Event

I-J Special Report

MOBILE, Ala. — Eighteen-year-old Sharon Fox of San Rafael last night was fourth runnerup in the annual national Junior Miss contest.

Miss Fox, a senior at San Rafael High School, had been named last January to represent California in the contest at a pageant in Santa Rosa.

For her talent presentation, she performed a dance she had improvised in a combination of modern dance, ballet and jazz.

Miss Fox, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fox of 127 Humboldt Street, maintains an A average at high school. She plans to attend College of Marin and later, Stanford University.

'Throwaway' Ban On Ross Agenda

An ordinance prohibiting anyone from leaving "unsolicited throwaway material" at Ross residences will be reviewed by th Ross Town Council when it meets Thursday at 8 p.m. in town hall.

Virginia Stott, town clerk, said the ordinance was drafted after councilmen received complaints from residents who said recent editions of the Ross Valley Reporter were being left in their driveways.

80 In Lineup For Art Show

More than 80 artists have registered to exhibit in the sixth annual Novato Fair Shopping Center Art Show, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the center.

One of the features will be a seascape, an oil painting by Vicki Nichols, show coordinator, which will be given away at the end of the show.

In the crafts exhibit Jerry Reese of Novato will display handcarved redwood planters, Beverly McCoy will demonstrate jewelry making and Barbara Ferguson, macrame.

JONES GLAD TO BE BACK

Singer Tom Jones signs an autograph for car rental girl Denise Edwards at Miami Airport. The British singer arrived in the United States yesterday from Venezuela. His departure was held up a day after a man Jones said was a friend was accused of punching a Caracas newsman in the ear. He said he was happy to be back on U.S. soil.

Belvedere Will Ask Height Compliance

Residents living along West Shore Road with trees or fences exceeding city height limitations will be asked to bring their properties in line with regulations, the Belvedere City Council decided last night.

The council asked Councilman Stuart C. Cullen to speak with the four residents about maintaining the view easement specified by deed restrictions.

Deed restrictions specify that property owners maintain a view easement, 25 feet wide, free of any structure except an open-type fence not exceeding 42 inches high above street level or landscaping.

The Belvedere City Council Also:

BASEBALL FIELD — Learned from Cavalli that the city park will be open for use within one week.

DOCK — Denied an appeal of a planning commission recommendation that a variance in backyard setbacks be granted to allow Pieter Myers, 8 Blanding Lane, to construct a dock and boat shed on the water behind his residence.

PARKING SPACE — Approved a variance for the Newkirk property, 16 Lagoon Road, to permit alterations to bring the existing two-car parking area up to minimum size requirements.

VARIANCE — Approved a variance for the Jocelyn property, 11 Alcatraz Avenue, to allow alterations while only providing one (rather than the required two) off-street parking spaces.

LANDMARKS — Authorized Mayor David E. Bordon to execute an insurance agreement with the Tiburon Landmarks Society.

TRANSIT — Came out against the proposed Marin County Transit District 25-cent tax rate increase, on the grounds that money can be found in other areas to pay for the service without raising taxes, and because it was believed that Belvedere would not benefit as much as other communities by the new service.

SEWAGE — Extended a joint-powers agreement for another year, and allocated $3,500 for participation in the Southern Marin Subregional Sewerage Agency.

TREES — Refused to pay to remove trees on city property blocking the view of Donald Furlong, 4 Eucalyptus Road, but asked Auerbach to establish ar ad hoc citizens committee to recommend to the council a program of city-sponsored tree-cutting in the future.

SIGNS — At the request of local residents, agreed to put up additional speed limit and warning signs near 300 Golden Gate Avenue. Homeowners there asked that the signs be put up because of the many children playing in the area.

URBAN AID — Endorsed a resolution before the county supervisors that asks the state department of transportation to approve procedures for establishing a three-year program to study transportation needs in Marin.

FEDERAL PROPERTY — Designated the city manager and the chief of police to accept surplus property donated by the federal government.

CONFERENCE — Approved a request by fire chief L. T. Mersereau that he be allowed to attend the California Fire Chief's Association annual convention in Newport Beach.

SCHOOL — Appointed Cavalli and Councilman Levit to a committee studying possible uses of Tiburon School.

CLOSED SESSION — Went behind closed doors to discuss "hiring or firing" a city employee according to Mayor Bordon, who declined to say which action was being contemplated, or to give a reason for his reluctance to be specific. (The city council has been considering reducing its police force.)

City Merger Unit Named

A committee charged with exploring the possibility of joining the cities of Belvedere and Tiburon was appointed last night by the Belvedere City Council.

Mayor David E. Bordon, Councilman Thomas S. Price and planning commissioner William H. Rafter were named by the council to meet with representatives of Tiburon to consider merging some of the two cities' governmental and service functions.

"I'm not sure about consolidating the cities as wholes, but combining some services" would be a good idea, said Councilman Charles E. Auerbach.

The Tiburon City Council at its last meeting asked Belvedere to appoint a group to meet with Tiburon's representatives to come up with some recommendations about merging.

Councilman Sherry C. Levit asked, "Was that a serious proposal? I was told it was made in jest at their meeting."

Assured by City Mgr. William L. Cavalli that the proposal was made in earnest, councilmen agreed unanimously to establish the panel to meet with the Tiburon group.

Fewer Districts

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The total number of school districts in Missouri decreased by 35 in 1973, from 606 to 571.

Nude Pageant Still Homeless

COLTON (UPI) — The "California Miss Bare State Pageant" is still looking for a home.

Previously denied the facilities of one Southern California country club, the pageant was turned away yesterday from its planned use of the Indian Wells Hotel near Palm Desert, Calif.

The Olive Dell Ranch, the sponsors of the event which is a division of the Miss Nude World Pageant of Canada, said a facility is needed large enough to accommodate the 1,500 persons expected to attend the pageant, originally scheduled for June 16, then moved back to June 30, and now postponed indefinitely. About 25 women, aged 18 to 30, are entered in the pageant.

Novato Trash Drive Results In Big Haul

During the campaign April 27 and Saturday, 2,644 cubic yards of debris was collected, compared to 2,516 last year.

Residents either left debris at a collection site or hauled uncompacted debris to the dump.

Groups were Brownie Group 1477, Cub Scout Pack 73, Boy Scout Troop 142, Marin Conservation League, Cub Scout Pack 175, Camp Fire Girls of Central Novato, Cub Scout Pack 58, and Camp Fire Girls of West Novato.

Prices To Rise

HAPPY ENDING IN ST. LOUIS

Mrs. Evans Franklin of Nebo, Ill., gives her son, Edward T. Franklin (center) and Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., a hug upon their arrival at Lambert Airport in St. Louis. Franklin, 34, a Southern Illinois teacher, was released Sunday after spending 16 months in a Southern Yemen prison on espionage charges. Findley visited South Yemen last week to intercede for Franklin on a five-year sentence and was surprised to learn that Franklin would be released. The reunion came yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

Zebra Trio Council Is 'Confident'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The three Black Muslim suspects in the Zebra street slayings of 12 whites were described by their attorney last night as "confident" their innocence will be proven.

Attorney Clinton White spoke to reporters outside city hall, where a grand jury opened secret sessions into the series of killings over a five-month period in San Francisco.

Reporters were barred from entering the building, where an informer who broke open the case was expected to testify.

White said he would appear in municipal court today to ask for jail privileges for the suspects, Larry Green, 22; Manuel Moore, 28, and J.C. Simon, 29, all of San Francisco.

The three Black Muslims, he said, were denied their religious book, the Koran, because it is only published in hardcover. As an alternative they asked for a soft cover dictionary and Bible, which they were granted.

White will ask Judge Agnes O'Brien Smith to allow the suspects commissary and visiting privileges.

The informer who will testify before the Grand Jury has been identified by Muslim leader John Muhammed as Anthony Harris, whom Muhammed said was a "crackpot" and "mental patient."

All three suspects were charged with murder and conspiracy and appear in court Thursday to enter pleas and seek bail.

Their religions, said White, has taught the Muslims to be confident and to "prepare for any adversity."

Dog Bite Victim Is Undergoing Rabies Shots

A San Rafael man whose left hand was badly mangled last night by a dog he was attempting to befriend has begun the painful series of rabies shots.

A physician gave Richard S. Liddell, 19, of 22 Cala Vista Drive, an inoculation after hearing a description of the dog's behavior.

Liddell said he stopped his car on D Street near Bayview Street in San Rafael about 8 p.m. last night because he saw a dog that appeared to have been injured.

The dog, though, turned on him and tore his hand.

Short School officials and others in the neighborhood today were being alerted to look for the dog, which Liddell described as a large male beagle with long ears. The animal may have been injured as Liddell thought he saw blood.

Permit Is Approved For Service Station

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night approved a permit for a service station at 700 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The commission said Standard Oil of California may remodel an abandoned service station on the site, according to the city planning department.

In return, the firm pledged to raze a service station at 160 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, a spokesman said.

In other business, the commission denied a permit for a single family home requested by Emil Renati, and approved a permit requested by Louis Wegener for a home at 47 Indian Rock Road.

The commission also approved a permit for a retail clothing and antique shop at 137 Tunstead Avenue and a permit for a restaurant serving wine and beer at 634 San Anselmo Avenue.

A request by the San Anselmo School District that portions of Isabel Cook School be rezoned was put over to July 1.

School Signups Are Scheduled

West Marin School at Point Reyes Station will hold preregistration of fall kindergarten students from Point Reyes Station, 9 Olema and Inverness from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. May 15.

Children born on or before Dec. 2, 1968, are eligible to register and proof of birth must be submitted, principal Howard F. Brose reported.

Children must have their immunization shots and will be screened for vision, hearing and speech, he said.

Brose suggested pupils whose last names start in the letters A to G register in the first hour, H to Q in the second hour and R to Z in the third hour.

Weed Seeking Gun, Passport

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — The fiance of kidnaped Patricia Hearst is seeking both a gun permit and the renewal of his passport.

Lt. Lloyd Burns of the Santa Rosa Police Department said yesterday that Steven Weed had applied for the permit Friday.

Since no permits are being issued until the new police chief, Salvatore Rosano, takes office in June, Weed's application was postponed.

Burns quoted the University of California graduate student as saying, "I'll try someplace else then."

With Weed when he applied for the permit and for the passport renewal at the Sonoma County clerk's office was his mother, Mrs. Bernard Pepper of Santa Rosa.

IN COURT —Columbus, Ga., attorney Kenneth Hensen (background) escorts his client, former Lt. William L. Calley from federal court. Calley was in court yesterday where his appeal for continuation of bail was upheld pending a hearing later. The Army is seeking revocation of his bail. (UPI Telephoto)

Revocation Of Calley Bail Sought

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — The Army asked a federal judge yesterday to revoke the bail of former Lt. William L. Calley, now dishonorably discharged, and return him to confinement for the My Lai massacre.

Judge J. Robert Elliott said he would rule "shortly" on the motion that the $1,000 recognizance bond that he approved for Calley Feb. 27 be revoked.

The judge indicated, however, that he would allow Calley to remain free pending appeal of his conviction for the murder of at least 22 civilians at the South Vietnamese hamlet of My Lai in a 1968 U.S. Army operation.

Calley had been confined to his bachelor officers' quarters at nearby Fort Benning until he was granted bond. He has served three years of his reduced 10-year sentence, but has spent only one night in an army stockade.

Elliott set June 24 for hearing arguments on Calley's appeal of his conviction and Calley's attorneys filed a 350-page brief yesterday to support his appeal.

The brief contends that Calley was the victim of command influence in the Army and "intense pretrial publicity" in his court-martial and did not get a fair trial.

Calley, the only solder convicted in the My Lai massacre, originally received a life sentence but that was reduced to 20 years by his commanding general. Army secretary Howard Callaway reduced the sentence to 10 years last month and the case then was passed on to President Nixon for final action.

Nixon last Saturday said he had reviewed the case and would take no further action.

Demo Hopeful For Second Spot Outlines Higher Education Plan

A. John Merlo of Chico, candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, yesterday called for free entry to higher education institutions for all Californians who have the ability to be admitted but cannot afford it.

The present exclusion of such persons from high education "is wasting one of our greatest resources — our brains," Merlo said in an interview at the Independent-Journal.

He had no estimate of how many extra students his proposal would put in the University of California and state university systems, or its cost, but insisted education was too important to be sidetracked by economic problems. Declaring "our priorities are so screwed up, with vast sums spent in 'legal' killings overseas," he argued his proposal would cost society less in the long run than continuing to waste such people.

Merlo noted that as lieutenant governor he would serve automatically on the university's board of regents and as a trustee of the state university system, thus would have a voice in state educational policies.

The 51-year-old attorney also noted he would serve on the State Lands Commission, adding his experience in real estate law would be valuable there.

Merlo is former Northern California chairman of the Democratic Party, but never before has sought elective office. He said he was too liberal to be elected to public office in conservative Butte County, and has "the ability to serve more people than a parish."

He said he was running because "we need someone with sufficient unsophistication to know the difference between right and wrong," especially in the wake of the Watergate scandals. "Politicians substantially don't know the difference, and it's time that someone came in there and showed them the difference," he declared.

Merlo is in a crowded field of eight candidates for the nomination, but noted he was the only one from Northern California. No northerner has served as lieutenant governor for more than 20 years, he said, although 60 per cent of the state's Democratic registration was in the northern 50 counties.

Buses Run Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bus service resumed today in Washington and suburban areas of Maryland and Virginia following a five-day strike of drivers and mechanics for most divisions of the the publicly operated Metrobus system.

Goldwater Is Challenged By Demo Publisher

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Newspaper publisher Jonathan Marshall announced yesterday he would seek the U.S. Senate seat held by Barry Goldwater and said the key issues of the campaign would be the economy, corrupt government and Goldwater's attendance record.

"Arizona needs a working senator and representation in the majority party in Congress," said Marshall, speaking from the observation platform of a railroad car once used by the late President Harry S. Truman.

"This election must send a loud answer to Watergate, inflation and bureaucracy..."

Marshall, a Democrat and publisher of the Scottsdale Progress, said he would relinquish his publishing duties to Willie Brown, a former South Dakota publisher.

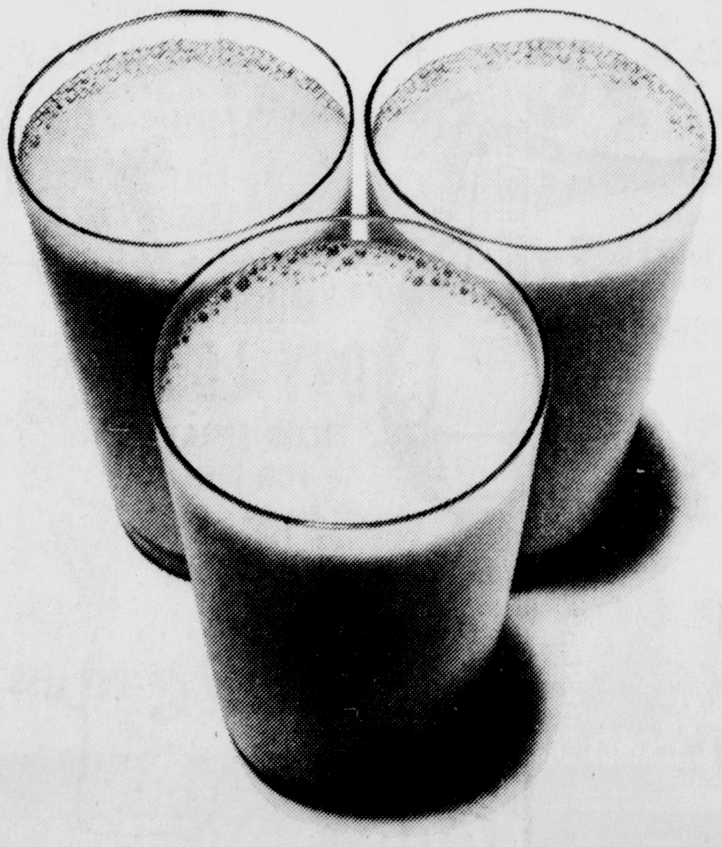
Half the protein you need a day: 28¢.

Three glasses of milk add up to half your recommended daily allowance—and one of the biggest bargains around. Shouldn't you drink to that?



Milk has something for every body.™

Cost of three 8-oz. glasses of milk is based on the average price of a half-gallon of milk in California stores. The U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance of protein per person is 45 grams as endorsed by the Food and Drug Administration; three 8-oz. glasses of milk provide 25.5 grams.

COUNSELING CLASS

Problems Of Single Mothers

By JOAN LISETOR

Most of the women were already in class sitting on overstuffed pillows when Brenda Volberg entered, loaded down with books, a smile on her face.

The week before, members of the class, Counseling 53, a course for single mothers entering College of Marin, had been worried about Brenda. The house she had been renting was sold, and she and her 2-year-old daughter had nowhere to live.

"I heard you found a place. We've all been worried about you," said Pat Moss.

"I found a great place, and I moved in yesterday," Brenda said.

"Tell us about it," said Wanda Bartholow, the instructor.

Brenda had been looking for almost a month. She went to the Marin County Housing Authority to apply for the leased housing program and was told she had to be without housing for three months to qualify, she said. She was having trouble finding a place that would take a child and didn't require two months rent in advance plus a cleaning deposit, which she couldn't afford.

"THE HOUSE is in Mill Valley. There are three other single mothers, and each has one child. They have just signed a lease through August of next year, so I have security," Brenda said.

"They are all working, and I have decided to take the summer off of school, so I can babysit with the children."

"I have something to celebrate," said Rachel Fischer. "It's my last day on AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children.)"

Rachel goes to College of Marin and has three part-time jobs. She is an aide at the Marin Infant Center in San Anselmo, works for an insurance company and teaches Sunday School. With the child support she receives from her former husband her total income is above $320 per month, the maximum to be eligible for AFDC for her and her three children.

Ten women are enrolled in the course, which began last February. Their ages range from mid 20s to mid 30s. All are divorced with children and either starting college for the first time or reentering after several years absence. The class is oriented toward helping each woman find the direction in her changing world through the process of self development.

"During the first group sessions the women acted like typical parents, giving advice to each other about how to handle the many pressures," Mrs. Bartholow explained. "They soon learned through the group process that, although their needs and problems are similar, their answers are unique and individual."

HEIDE VOORSANGER had just returned from a trip to Los Angeles. She talked about the good time she had and how good it felt to get back to her four children, ages 14, 13, 11 and 5.

"Heide, you sure do look pretty," said Judy Taylor.

"I think it's important to get away from your kids, even for a short time," said Nancy Kane, mother of two.

The women discussed the problems of finding people to take care of their children and being able to afford babysitters for an entire weekend. They discussed exchanging children on weekends.

"I don't like to leave my kids for an entire weekend with a stranger," said Pat.

"That's why my house is so ideal. We can go out and not leave our kids with strangers," Brenda said.

The discussion turned to school.

"Someone put a new bug in my ear, and it sounds profitable," said Pat. "I wanted to go into the auto technician department, become a mechanic. I went over to talk to the department head, and he snickered. He told me there was only one woman, and she swears better than any man."

Turned off to auto mechanics, she has decided to study legal stenography, possibly become a court reporter.

"I LIKE the idea. You meet people, and it pays well," she told the class.

Nancy had just found out that her grades had earned her a scholarship.

"I can tell you are doing better. You used to be moody, and sit brooding," Sheila Heyn told Nancy.

"That was you, Sheila," Mrs. Bartholow said. "You seem to feel better now. Tell us why."

"I'm being myself now and am independent," said Sheila, who is newly divorced.

"It takes time," said one woman. "It took me a year."

"It took me two years," another offered.

"There aren't any models to emulate if you get a divorce," Nancy said. "It's an unknown, what your behavior should be."

"And we're outcasts. We're not a family," said Patricia Burnside.

The women talked about their relationships with their children, and they laughed when Pat told a story about her 8-year-old daughter, who got out of the house one morning wearing her mother's pantyhose to school.

"A LOT OF the conversation today revolved around their children, more than usual," Mrs. Bartholow explained after the class. "Each woman decides how she wants to change, and we work on that. They get quite personal about what is bothering them and even cry. They are learning to cope with the outside world."

Mrs. Bartholow identifies with the group out of her own experience as a single mother. The women have been turned off by other counselors, who don't understand the needs and problems of single mothers.

"The women were terrified when they first came to the college and have told me without the group they don't know what they would have done," Mrs. Bartholow said. "There are so many women who decide to go back to school. They get as far as the parking lot, are afraid to get out of the car and turn around and go home."

With the optimistic attitude that this group has toward life and with the many opportunities available to them at the college, Mrs. Bartholow said, she believes they are going to succeed.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER SERIES

Women Found Growth In Divorce

By KAREN PETERSON

The period between recognizing marital problems up to the past and the actual decision to file for divorce can be a time of tremendous personal growth, said a group of recently divorced and separated women last night at the Young Women's Christian Association.

For the women who gathered informally to talk on "Leaving Your Mate —The Choice" at the weekly Knowledge is Power Series, divorce meant building up "self-image" and making a concrete decision about what they wanted out of their lives.

"It's something I felt I had to do for myself," said Judy, a 29-year-old mother of two (all the women preferred that only their first names be used), "I've never been to the point where I wanted to do something for myself."

"I have put myself down and feel like I'm a big nothing," said Sandy, echoing a sentiment expressed during much of the evening's discussion. "Women put themselves in such subservient positions in marriage," she said.

"I DID everything he wanted me to do — I never stopped and thought about it," said Judy, but "through therapy I was becoming stronger and he saw that he was losing the control."

"I never had an identity crisis," added Violet, half in jest, "I always knew I was a nobody."

Women, especially those who married young and have not worked, are basically insecure and fear separation, said a woman in the audience, because they "don't know what they're going to do and where the money will come from."

"I'm not doubting my decision as much as I hate the crappy part of it," said Judy, "Everything's my responsibility now. It's very difficult to handle emotionally."

"Money doesn't take away ills," she continued, "Kids don't really care and money just doesn't mean anything now."

Divorce is something that should be weighed carefully. Problems aren't going to be solved. It's really a rough place to be. Things are beginning to come down now," continued Judy, who filed for divorce in April.

"That's when it really sets in," added Sally, "getting rid of one and now having another."

But, she added, "it's always positive when you're getting out from underneath something."

"Each split was the most growing, productive period," continued Sally who has been through two divorces. Looking back, she added, "I finally got through the ego and emotional ramifications and to the truth. The truth was that I didn't want to be there."

"AND WHEN I told the truth — that the relationship was not growing," she continued, "that usually was the truth for them too."

It's also important, she added, to ask, "Why can't I sit by myself in an empty room and be happy with myself? I have a lot to offer myself. I'm really getting close to what it means to be liberated — to be out of that 'need' for a man."

Therapy isn't always a panacea for solving marital problems, said Sandy, 29, who is currently separated from her husband. "Both of us were in therapy before breaking up. We're still friends. We were just two people who got married because we were programmed to."

For women who feel they need support during and after the divorce, Sally recommended therapy, women's groups, counselors at the Family Service Agency and Catholic Social Services, consciousness raising groups such as the one beginning at the YWCA, and the Women's Center for referrals to therapists, counselors and attorneys.

"I'm lonely and sad sometimes," said Sandy, "but it's also good and I'm excited about the future. There's a great need to get this out. In women's groups. . .you find you're not unique."

The final decision must come within you, added Sally, "What is it in me that's keeping me here and taking it" all. "I get really angry, she said, because "I'm the one that can turn it off."

ON THE AGENDA

Winner To Be Named Saturday Of Marin Designers' Showcase

Three special events will be held this week at Marin Designers' Showcase, climaxing Saturday with the Anne B. McDonald Award to the designer whose room received the most public votes.

The award will be presented at 2 p.m. Wine and cheese will be served.

Interior-decorator Jack Howland, AID, will lead a special tour of the Showcase House tomorrow, at 1:30 p.m., noting special techniques used by designers. Thursday from 12:30 to 2 p.m. Mannequin League models will show fashions from Modern Eve, San Rafael and Northgate, during the house and garden tour.

The showcase is located at 47 Laurel Grove Avenue, Ross, and is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS for 1974 will be special guests at the Marin Charter Chapter, American Business Women's Association National Scholarship month meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Terra Linda.

Recipients of the $400 scholarships were Terra Linda High School seniors Mary Patricia Hiatt and Mary Elizabeth Crayne. Miss Hiatt, the daughter of Barbara Hiatt of San Rafael, has been accepted by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Miss Crayne, the daughter of Marian Giddings of San Rafael, will attend the University of California at San Diego to study obstetrics.

Guest speaker at the meeting will be Marcia Greil, career counselor with the Marin County Board of Education. She will discuss "The Decision Makers: Overviews of Career Education."

Vocational talks will be given by Bonnie Chappell, administration secretary to the president of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary and corresponding secretary for the Marin Chapter of ABWA.

THE REV. KATHARINA von Drimmelen, leader of an Ecumenical Contact Center in Vienna for relations with East European churches, will be guest speaker at the noon meeting Thursday of United Presbyterian Women of First Church, San Anselmo.

Miss von Drimmelen will speak on "Women in East Europe." Luncheon will be served by the Evening Circle and devotions will be led by Sylvia Klapak and Dorothy Beckendorf.

A bus will leave the Masonic Temple in Larkspur at 10:30 a.m. Reservations chairmen are Alice Hurlbut and Mmes. Harvie Freed, chairman of the event, and John Barry, president of the guild.

All proceeds will go to Sunny Hills in San Anselmo.

NATIVE DRESS from countries around the world will be modeled by members of the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club Friday beginning at 1 p.m. at the clubhouse.

The program will also feature "A Musical Interlude" by Thelma DeWitt and Tini Browning. Costumes modeled will be from Eastern and Western countries including India, Egypt, Greece, Thailand, Switzerland, Ireland, Austria and Russia.

Thelma DeWitt is program chairman.

AN EVENING of dinner, games, a silent auction and prize will be held Friday beginning at 6 p.m. by the Soroptimist Club of Marin County at the Whistle Stop in San Rafael.

Funds raised from the dinner will be used for the $500 scholarship fund for senior Marin high school girls and for the Marin Parents for Mental Recovery.

Kathy Kelley is chairman of the fund-raiser.

"VICTORIAN SPLENDOR" is the theme of the Petaluma Newcomers spring tea Thursday at 2 p.m. in an 1882 heritage home at 327 Howard Street.

Two Petalumans Receive Awards

Two Petaluma High School students have received the Governor's award for 4.0 averages in 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

They are Gayle Ann Cameron and Marilyn Marie Rodgers. Miss Cameron was also the recipient of a Bank of America certificate in math.

Miss Cameron plans to enter the University of California at Davis next fall to major in math. Miss Rodgers plans to attend Empire College to receive executive secretary training.

Third Term For Head Of Seminary Auxiliary

Millicent Denison of San Rafael is serving a third term as president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary Women's Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary opened a thrift shop, "Seek and Find," last month at 1817 Fourth Street in San Rafael. Proceeds from the shop will be used to provide scholarships and loans for students at the seminary in San Anselmo.

A member for 10 years, Denison has also served as vice president. She was born in Moline, Ill., and attended high school in Ontario. She is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley with a degree in zoology and chemistry. Her husband, George H. GENERATION RAP

Friend's Fetish For Policemen Has Her Chasing Patrol Cars

DEAR RAP:

I have this friend who has a fetish for policemen. She never leaves her house without a police radio. She sits on her porch to all hours of the night, on the lookout. Since she got her driver's license, she's out on the streets chasing patrol cars.

Is this normal for a 17-year-old girl? What's with her? — C.N.

DEAR C.:

It could be this is a yen —for one particular policeman. But she won't get anything but trouble by chasing his patrol car. She who makes herself a nuisance hardly ever wins her man. — HELEN

DEAR C.N.:

Maybe this isn't a fetish, but an ambition.

If your friend wants a career in law enforcement, however, she should leave off chasing patrol cars and aim toward a police science major at college. — SUE

RAP:

"Fran" wonders if men grow beards to hide behind. I say they grow beards for the obvious reasons: they're less trouble, and an easy way out of "manicuring" the head every day, via a razor. — ONE FOR BEARDS

RAP:

I'm not "hiding" behind my beard and long hair. My "hairy" reasons are:

1. It's a real pain in the glass to shave (or cut) when you don't have to. Growing a beard sure beats daily razor burn.

2. As for long hair: it could be men realize they are destined to be bald late in life, hence want to hang on to the hair as "long" as they can.

3. Why should we look like everyone else? If a woman can be liberated in her life-style, so can man. We're just letting our hair down, like the females do.

4. Beards and long hair for men are ways of breaking out of useless traditions.

Someone asked me how long I was going to grow my bears. My answer: "Probably until I trip over it!" — BUSHY

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

I am 18 and pregnant. I lived with Don (age 22) for three weeks, and then he told me he wasn't ready to settle down yet. There was never a promise of marriage.

Should I tell him about the baby, or would this be "pushing" him toward a decision he doesn't want? I have a good job, fantastic parents who understand, and I'm able to care for my child.

I love Don and would wait for him, but when he's through dinging around, he may find someone he likes better. — TO KEEP A SECRET?

DEAR TKS:

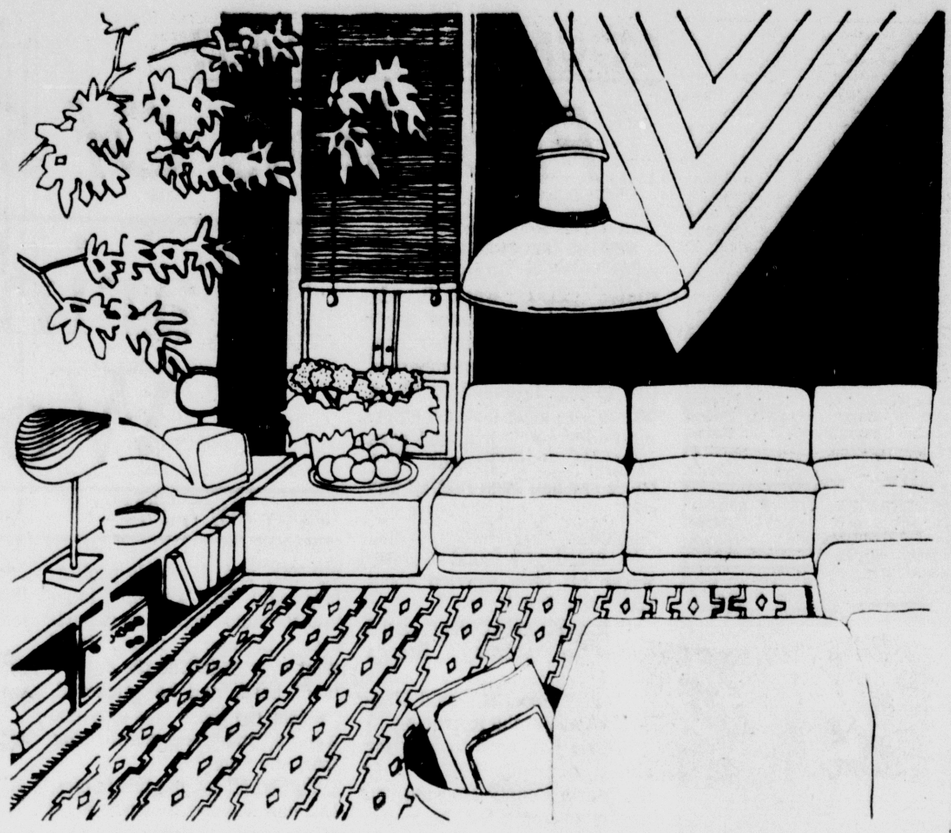
It takes two to make a baby, so both should know of its existence. Since you had a "no strings" arrangement, let him know, when you tell him, it isn't a "marriage trap."

Let's hope he decides for settling down! — SUE

DEAR SECRET:

...But if Don prefers dinging around, he should at least assume some of the financial responsibility. I think you should tell him about his impending fatherhood! — HELEN

Got a problem? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel — or both, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca 94902.



Want A Pit? There's More Than One Way To Achieve Your Dream

By EMILY MALINO
Distributed by United Feature Syndicate

A lot of folks would give an arm and a leg to own a conversation pit, those interesting, cozy depressions with cushions all around especially designed for social gatherings.

The pit looks better if it's constructed with the house itself. A brave and ingenious few, however, buying an existing house with high-ceilinged rooms, have actually built a continuous seat-high platform across the end of the living room, leaving a large rectangle or square at floor level which becomes the "pit."

For those of you who favor this deluxe device but don't have the heart to build a second floor — or a new house — my advice is: don't give up. A close copy can be made by assembling a congenial furniture group.

IN A room for a couple who decided they couldn't live without a pit, but couldn't afford the real thing, I used modular furniture, armless seats and backs and a plain seat or two to break up the monotony. These are designed to make an "L" shape, a right-angle arrangement to seat six comfortably, with space to squeeze eight for a party.

In another right-angle arrangement I designed a low table —the same width and depth of the seating pieces — and a long, low shelf to fit alongside.

These two right-angled groups are planned to line three walls, the window wall and the two walls at right angles to the window making for a complete square with an opening at one end for easy and inviting access.

The seclusion and comfort of a pit is accentuated by using an area rug to fit closely to the inside edges of the shelf, table and seats, giving a wall-to-wall arrangement.

I used a patterned Indian rug, and picked up one of the colors in the upholstery, using the natural woods and colors to make a subdued but inviting scheme. The same look could be designed by using thick carpet and matching the upholstery fabric to the floor, making a one-color scheme that accents the "pit" approach.

THE SEATING itself is low and squishy; it is leg-less, and this "down-to-the-floor" look also gives a built-in feeling.

The shelf can be a useful, as well as a visual, device to continue the built-in approach. I used my shelf to hold books and a hi-fi system under one long surface that is a marvelous exhibit space and with a spare cushion or two can become extra seating for a party.

The window, off-center and too small for this room, is incorporated into the furniture arrangement, becoming a vertical extension of the low table, balanced by the large painting and a wide, hanging lamp that diffuses soft light over the whole group. Try assembling a pit instead of building one — it's less expensive, easily movable, and just as eye-catching and inviting for your friends.

Kissinger's Bride Keeps Her Cool Under Pressure

By CHARLOTTE SAIKOWSKI
The Christian Science Monitor News Service

JERUSALEM, Israel — She gets on and off helicopters. She dines embassy wives. She shakes the hands of world leaders. And she keeps serene and dignified as flashbulbs pop mercilessly whenever she appears.

In short, a colorful new note graces the massive entourage that surrounds Henry A. Kissinger as he whirls around the Middle East — Nancy Maginnes Kissinger.

Mrs. Kissinger, in fact, commanded almost as much attention as her famous husband as the couple went sightseeing at an archaeological excavation in Alexandria, Egypt. She was dressed in a peacock-blue suede-like dress with a paisley pink scarf tucked at her neck and her dark glasses sitting atop her head. She walked behind or beside the Secretary of State and took in quiet stride the horde of newsmen constantly clustered around, pointing cameras and microphones at her.

"Are you going to keep digging?" she asked a museum official, and avid reporters jotted down every word.

ONE DOUBTS she enjoys so much limelight. On this occasion, her composed, earnest-faced self, she walked about the ancient Roman amphitheater and baths asking about the Byzantine clans that vied for power and influence, and quipping sympathetically with museum officials because an apartment building stood in the way of further excavations.

The secretary's new bride is fulfilling a desire to travel with her husband, and from the outset she unassumingly swung into the ritual that has become part of any Kissinger flight.

No sooner had the Boeing 707 lifted off from Andrews Air Force Base than the secretary, sporting a royal blue sweater, brought his wife back to the caboose to meet the dozen or so newsmen aboard. Mrs. Kissinger — relaxed, friendly, handsome in a shocking pink dress — was an immediate hit. Could she do anything for the newsmen, she asked. What should she shop for in the Middle East?

At one point on the flight she could be seen padding down the aisle in her stocking feet and her belt off. Her toenails, one could not help noticing, matched the color of her dress.

Mrs. Kissinger has said she expects to stay with the party throughout the grueling trip. Buf if the secretary begins shuttling repeatedly between Jerusalem and Damascus she might stay put in one place until the dust (or, rather, sand) settles.

THE EGYPTIANS clearly wanted to keep her in Egypt and to show her the wonders at Luxor and other places.

So far Mrs. Kissinger has not played much of a social role alongside her husband. Most of his dinners with world leaders have been working sessions, and she has moved about on her own. In Geneva she called on Mrs. Andrei Gromyko, and in Algiers on the wife of President Boumedienne. In this sun-drenched city she did join Dr. Kissinger at a dinner given by President Sadat and his wife and at a luncheon hosted by the Egyptian Foreign Minister.

Much may depend on how Mrs. Kissinger survives the glare of publicity. Her husband seems to lap it up, and he does everything with an air of supreme self-assurance.

However, he seemed at a loss for words when he stopped to inscribe the visitors book at the end of a tour of the Greek-Roman Museum here. He even sought to close the book quickly after Mrs. Kissinger added her name, but reporters managed to glimpse a phrase that sounded rather familiar — "a very fascinating visit to see whether the present can learn from the past."

OUTSIDE, A crowd of Egyptians kept well back by security police waited in anticipation, clapping and whistling when the Kissingers emerged and prepared to leave in their sleek limousine. Apparently Egyptian officials had coached the crowd, but their enthusiasm seemed no less warm because of that.

Mrs. Kissinger quickly got in the car. Her husband stood on the steps of the museum waving and smiling at his admirers.

Today is Tuesday, May 7, the 127th day of 1974 with 238 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

English poet Robert Browning was born May 7, 1812.

On this day in history:

In 1915, 1,198 passengers, 124 of them Americans, were lost when a German U-boat sank the British liner "Lusitania" off the coast of Ireland.

In 1945, Nazi Germany surrendered on the 2,075th day of World War II.

In 1968, Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace, 41, died of cancer.

In 1973, the White House denied that President Nixon knew beforehand of the Watergate break-in or offered clemency to anyone involved.

EAST'S IDEA

West opened the four of hearts, and East played the queen rather than the ace. The idea was to force South to play the king at once instead of holding up. This kind of play is often a shrewd move by third-hand.

As things went, South won the first trick with the king of hearts. He was afraid that West had led from a suit headed by ace-jack, in which case South would never get a heart trick unless he took it at once.

UNEXPECTED ACE

At the second trick South led the jack of spades, and East took the ace. East then produced the ace of hearts.

Without thinking, West followed suit with his lowest heart, the three. East continued with the seven of hearts, and West was obliged to win the trick. West could take the rest of the hearts and the ace of clubs, but then declarer had the rest.

MAKES BID

The defenders took four hearts and the two black aces, a total of six tricks. Hence South made his contract.

West should play the eight of hearts when his partner leads the ace. Then West could play the three of hearts under East's seven. This would leave East in the lead and would virtually force East to switch to clubs. West would get two club tricks instead of just one, and the contract would be defeated.

DAILY QUESTION

The first two players pass, and it is up to you.

You hold:
♠ - A 9 7 4
♥ - A Q 7
♦ - J 9 8 6
♣ - 9 5

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass. You would open the bidding if you had a good hand or if you could indicate a favorable opening lead.

Since you have poor suits and a substandard hand your best course is to pass.

TIME-SPAN — A 20th century space ship and the ancient classic world converge in this etching-aquatint print by Heidi Hafer. Titled "Time-Space Continuum," it is included in her exhibit of prints at the Corte Madera Regional Library through May 31.

ART REVIEW

Artist Shows Penetrating Awareness In Her Works

By ADA GARFINKEL

For one so young — she was born in 1948 — Corte Madera artist Heidi Hafer has a broad and penetrating awareness of the numerous interacting forces governing life.

In her first one-artist show of prints at the Corte Madera Regional Library through May 31, Miss Hafer demonstrates that she is a skilled and versatile craftsman with a vivid imagination and a facility for presenting mythological, archetypal, and allegorical visions in a repertory of varied techniques.

These include etchings, drypoint, and aquatint prints which are part of the intaglio process in which the image is engraved below the surface of the plate. Her prints done in relief are woodcuts and lino-cuts. Most of them are in black and white and some works combine several processes.

Her most dramatic work is "Plateau Leaper," a black linocut with sharply incised white lines. Thrusting diagonal ladders, floating platforms, blazingly raidating suns, and a muscular male reaching to the heavens convey a strong emotional and spiritual quality.

In a large, three-part woodcut in color she recalls the mythology of Diana the huntress, with a small etching of Diana as the goddess of the moon totally encoiled by minute, interconnecting and overlapping wiry, linear triangles.

In a most poetical way, "Gift from the Sea," shows a human fetus lying within a conch shell in gently flowing water. Extending the range of her perceptions are "Driftwood," dramatizing the state of lost souls; "Birth of a Monstrosity;" "The Human Condition;" and "Joy of Life." These are intaglio prints.

More topical themes include "Tribute to Solzhenitsyn," a woodcut; and in mixed media: "Soccer-Santiago Style," a biting commentary on dictatorships; and "Checkmate," showing a prostrated Statue of Liberty. Also, "Vision in Red, White, and Blue," which presents a large portrait bust of George Washington resting on a barren field flanked by rows of white stars on a blue background. Above him floats a Liberty-like angel carrying a torch. Below him, separated by a band of embossed white stars, the large, sad face of Liberty is seen on a red field. Betwixt them a sad-faced young woman with bowed head contemplates the situation.

This exhibit may be seen from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday. The library is located at 707 Meadowsweet Drive.

'Guys And Dolls' To Be Presented

Redwood High School's music-theater workshop will present the Broadway musical "Guys and Dolls" on May 10, 11, 17 and 18 at 8 p.m. in the school's little theater.

J. D. Nichols will direct the production and Gary B. Walker will direct the orchestra. Both are Redwood music instructors.

William Clark will be the music director and Linda Aaron will direct choreography. Both are teacher aides in the school's performing arts department.

More than 65 Redwood students will participate in staging the musical as members of the cast, stage crew and orchestra. Names of the principal performers were withheld by Nichols for fear feelings of those in minor roles would be hurt.

Longer Pants Hurt Scouting

STAFFORD, England (UPI) — New long pants uniforms are causing a shortage in Boy Scout troop strength, says chief scout Oliver Finlow.

Finlow said the movement did not consider the extra cost for extra length when the scouts dropped their shorts.

Many parents could not buy a $14.50 pair of khaki trousers for once-a-week scout meetings, Finlow said.

Jealousy Shooting Sentence Is Given

ENNA, Sicily (UPI) — A court yesterday sentenced farmer Antonino Salnitro to 21 years in prison for killing a suspected lover of his 70-year-old mistress.

Salnitro is 75. The victim of the jealousy shooting, Antonino Rinaldi, was 30.

Corte Madera To Chart Open Space Plan Alone

Taking a different tack on the purchase of open space lands, the Corte Madera Town Council last night decided to study a "go it alone" approach.

Just last month the council endorsed creation of a county service area — involving Corte Madera, Mill Valley, Larkspur, Kentfield and Greenbrae — as open space. Since then it has been learned that proposal can't appear on the Nov. 5 ballot because there is not enough time for review by local and regional agencies, such as the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission.

But a bond issue for Corte Madera voters only needs no such approval and can be added to the Nov. 5 ballot as late as mid-July.

So Mayor Robert J. Flahive last night appointed councilmen Herber C. Leney and Jana G. Haehl to begin compiling information on a bond issue for the Nov. 5 election to buy North Ridge lands and other open space areas within the town.

Mrs. Haehl told councilmen that the North Ridge Action Committee had considered adding other open space areas in Corte Madera and Mill Valley to the county service area. But she said the county counsel had advised that such areas would have to be considered apart from the North Ridge county service area and each bond issue would need a two-thirds vote to pass.

She warned that putting more than one bond issue on the ballot would probably assure that all would be defeated.

She also warned councilmen that delaying the bond measure until elections next March would probably mean its defeat because of predictable low voter turnout when only school trustees are on the ballot.

A local open space bond issue probably would include only about 58 acres of North Ridge land. But it could also include Ring Mountain property, bayfront land and other areas the town wishes to retain undeveloped, she said.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

GROWTH — Received but took no action on a request from County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney that town and county officials meet to discuss growth control cooperation.

TRAFFIC — Called for bids for a traffic signal at Paradise and El Camino drives after instructing staff to scale down specifications so that smaller lights would be used and no lights would overhang the street.

REFUSE — Appointed Flahive and councilman Larry P. Weingarth to study a rate increase for refuse collection being sought by Mill Valley Refuse Service.

HIGHWAY — Requested that the California Highway Patrol, if it chooses to relocate its Marin headquarters, do so within Corte Madera.

PLAN — Scheduled a public hearing June 3 at 7:30 p.m. in town hall on the introduction and housing element of the proposed general plan.

TRUCK — Accepted the $41,941 bid of Van Pelt Fire Trucks of Oakdale for a 1,250-gallon-per-minute pump truck. Howe Apparatus of Martinez was the only other bidder and was lower at $38,964 but did not meet all of the specifications for the truck. Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson told the council another $20,000 must be spent for equipment to be attached to the truck.

CLAIM — Referred without comment to town attorney and insurance carrier a $50,000 claim by Constantine N. and Judith H. Kanis for damages suffered as a result of a fire in their apartment at 34 Edison Avenue on Jan. 20.

TURN — Instructed police to continue enforcing a left turn prohibition at Fifer Drive and Tamal Vista Boulevard as a means of discouraging commuters from using town streets as a freeway bypass during commute hours. The prohibition had been on a trial basis.

RESOLUTIONS — Adopted resolutions supporting the Strawberry Area and Ring Mountain plans; Proposition One, the parks bonds measure; Proposition Nine, the campaign reform measure; and using state funds to match individual contributions for purchase of bayfront lands open space.

EASEMENTS — Approved an exchange of easements with New York Fabrics so that the store can be built at 245 Tamal Vista Boulevard and fitted in near the Fifer pump station.

CLOSED — Met in closed session to instruct its salary negotiator.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to May 20 at 7:30 p.m. in town hall.

College Groups Plan Concert

Three music groups from the College of Marin will perform a variety of works in a concert May 18 at 8:30 p.m. in the college fine arts theater.

The Community Orchestra conducted by John H. Myers and the Collegiate Chorale will perform "The Coronation Scene" from "Boris Gudunov" by Modeste Mussorgsky. The chorale, under the direction of Scott Merrick, will also perform works by Barber, Fracknenpohl, Mennin and Thompson.

The College Chorus conducted by Stan Kraczek will perform folk songs, spirituals, short contemporary works and an original composition by Kraczek, "Viney Flow'r and Rosemay Tree."

Music students Anthony Barbera and Adam Linton will also conduct choral groups during the concert.

Redd Foxx Files Divorce Action

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Comedian Redd Foxx, star of the television series "Sanford and Son," filed for divorce yesterday against his wife of 18 years on grounds of incompatibility.

The divorce was filed under the name of John Elroy Sanford against Betty Jean Sanford and said the couple had no minor children.

Attorney Robert Reid, representing Sanford, also known as Redd Foxx, obtained a restraining order from District Judge Pavlikowski against Mrs. Sanford.

The court order blocked Mrs. Sanford from removing, hiding or secreting any property from their home on Eastern Avenue. And the court order said she was to return all money, checks, specifically $110,000, removed from bank accounts based on earnings by Foxx.

House Passes Bill To Aid Alcoholics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A bill authorizing $374 million for treating and preventing alcoholism was given final congressional approval yesterday by the House.

The money would be spent mostly in the next two fiscal years, with $173 million in fiscal year 1975, $188 million in fiscal 1976, and $13 million in fiscal 1977.

Nicasio Project Paper Rejected

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday rejected an environmental impact report, saying it inadequately dealt with a proposal to build 31 ranchettes near Nicasio's town square.

The document, which concluded that there would be little environmental damage, was returned to its authors, Dames and Moore of San Francisco, for revision.

The document earlier had been branded "an advertisement" for the project by Nicasio residents and some county officials, who criticized it as inaccurate, incomplete and vague.

Commissioner Jerry Friedman said the report "comes perilously close to being an advocacy document," and said it failed to deal adequately with the project's impact on the small rural community.

He said he wanted more information on water, sewage, traffic and dust, among other things.

Besides the 31 homes, which would be clustered on about 46 acres of the 655-acre site, the project proposes an eight-acre equestrian center capable of boarding 100 horses. The center would include an indoor show ring.

The land is located southwest of the town square and is owned by Neils J. Schultz. The developer is listed as George C. Johnson of Larkspur.

The project would draw its water from wells, if tests prove enough can be drawn, and the report claims this would have little effect on the water district's supply. Sewage would be treated on the site.

Commissioners said, however, they wanted more detailed information on both proposals.

Several Nicasio residents spoke against the project, including John G. Kelley of the Nicasio Landowners Association, who said the equestrian center would draw more traffic than predicted in the report and that the proposed 10 miles of horse trails would mar the landscape, among other concerns.

Eva Ghilotti, a Nicasio horse breeder, said she favored the project and found the environmental report adequate.

American Express Hit With Suit

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI) — Businessman Donald H. Herak has filed a $1.1 million suit against American Express alleging that the credit card firm libeled him due to a bookkeeping error.

Herak, president of the Acme Concrete Co., contended in the superior court suit that more than 100,000 merchants across the nation were sent notices by American Express advising them Herak had violated criminal laws.

Herak said the notices stem from a $406 bill on his American Express account that he alleged was paid in October, but received delinquency notices for it into February.

Herak also said his card was siezed by an employe of a San Diego hotel in March despite a letter he received advising him the error had been discovered and corrected.

Tiburon To Stay In Sewer Agency

The Tiburon Sanitary District board last night voted to continue its membership for another year in the Southern Marin subregional sewerage agency, according to board president James Murray.

The district will pay $5,400 as its share of support of the agency in 1974-75.

Density On Mountain Is Slashed

The Marin County Planning Commission moved swiftly and unanimously yesterday to rezone open space lands on Ring Mountain to reduce the number of possible homesites.

The commission's action also covered ridgelands to the east of the mountain and the Strawberry spit and slashed the density from about 3,000 new homes to about 650.

Rezoning of the 900 acres was approved by the commission once before. However, the county board of supervisors last month rejected the commission's original rezoning recommendation for Ring Mountain and other scattered parcels and referred the matter back.

Yesterday's action was in line with what supervisors said they wanted. Some 352 acres on Ring Mountain, owned by Thomas Deffebach of Mill Valley, was given a density of one home for every 10 acres, meaning 35 homes.

Discussion yesterday was limited to commissioners and not opened to audience members. The rezoning will next go to county supervisors for their approval. It is tenatively scheduled for the board's May 14 meeting.

Miniskirts At School Backed

LONDON (UPI) — Charles Paley-Phillips, conservative education spokesman for London, says teen-age schoolgirls should be allowed to wear miniskirts to class.

"There are some cracking teen-agers about showing a bit of leg," the councillor said. "Why not let them do it at school?

One Bottler Backs Ban On Throwaways

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gene Norton, president of the Dr. Pepper-Royal Crow Bottling Co., of Corpus Christi, Tex., broke sharply with many others in his industry yesterday and called for a national ban on throwaway beverage bottles.

Norton testified at a congressional hearing that use of returnable bottles would both help reduce litter and benefit bottlers.

Judge Halts Modernization On Marin City High Rise Units

Modernization work on Marin City high rise apartments was at a standstill again today, this time halted by a court order obtained by tenants in neighboring low rise units.

Federal District Court Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli yesterday issued a temporary restraining order against the remodeling, pending more hearings today and tomorrow of the lawyers for the Marin County Housing Authority and for the objecting tenants.

The Marin County Legal Aid Society obtained the temporary order, claiming that the housing authority was misusing federal funds to modernize the apartment towers while ignoring the complaints of the two-story units' tenants.

Zirpoli was scheduled to hear housing authority lawyers' motion to dissolve the temporary order today; he also assigned District Judge Charles B. Renfrew to hear arguments at 9 a.m. tomorrow on whether the temporary order should be made permanent.

Legal Aid Society attorneys acted in behalf of the Marin City Public Housing Tenants Representation Association and several tenants including Essie Mae Hardy in halting the modernization work. Mrs. Hardy on April 30 won a ruling from the housing authority's tenant grievance panel that she had been overcharged for electricity she used to heat her apartment's second floor because the housing authority failed to supply proper heating.

The tenants' suit charges that $525,000 in federal Housing and Urban Development modernization funds is being misused in renovating the high rise apartments and on landscaping without providing "decent, safe and sanitary housing" for more than 100 families in the low-rise units.

The housing authority is expected to discuss the latest developments in the trouble-plagued modernization program when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today in the authority headquarters at 47 Paul Drive, San Rafael.

Oil Agreement

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Libya has agreed to supply Argentina with three million tons of crude oil in 1974, according to the Foreign Commerce Ministry. Argentina claims to be 90 per cent self-sufficient in oil.

Celebration

TOKYO (AP) — Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap was the chief speaker last night at a meeting in Hanoi celebrating the 20th anniversary of the North Vietnamese victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu, Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency said. Giap, a vice premier and the architect of the Communists' military victory over the French, returned to public view last week. There were rumors that he was seriously ill.

Pinheiro Open Space Action Taken

The 385-acre Pinheiro property east of Novato was rezoned yesterday to allow fewer possible homesites as part of a county move to preserve greenbelt-open space areas.

The rezoning, approved unanimously by the county planning commission, must be ratified by county supervisors who will consider it next month. It would allow 38 homes on the property.

The commission, in approving the rezoning for the Pinheiro land and several small parcels near it on Atherton Avenue, deferred action on other lands in the Black Point Knolls area.

The postponement came at the request of the Black Point Planning Committee, which said no action should be taken until a community plan is completed later this year.

A committee spokesman said the community plan will urge low-lying areas be kept open and the ridges be zoned for one or two-acre homesites.

Yesterday's rezoning, recommended by the county planning department, would have imposed a lower density zoning on those lands.

The Black Point area is one of 12 in the county recommended for the "open space" rezoning to bring the areas into conformance with the county general plan.

To Hear Report

The Mill Valley City Council will hold a special meeting today at 8 p.m. in the Mill Valley Library board room to hear a report from Councilman Robert E. Capron on the work of the North Ridge Action Committee, according to city clerk Patricia L. Ostler.

IN RACE — Former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark has formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate in New York. Clark made his announcement yesterday and if he gets the bid, he would most likely face GOP Sen. Jacob Javits in the November election.

San Rafael, air quality yesterday:
Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.
Other areas:
San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, light air pollution.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources but the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

FORECASTS

San Francisco Bay Area: Low cloudiness along the coast through tomorrow, extending inland tonight and tomorrow morning, but sunny inland most of that day; high tomorrow in the upper 50s along the coast and into the 60s and low 70s inland areas; low tonight in the mid 40s to mid 50s; westerly winds 10 to 20 m.p.h. tomorrow afternoon.

Sierra Nevada: Fair through tomorrow, but with some afternoon cloudiness and increasing cloudiness in the extreme north; cooler tomorrow.

Napa and Sonoma valleys: Low cloudiness late tonight and tomorrow morning, but fair tomorrow afternoon; low tonight and high tomorrow at Santa Rosa 48 and 75; southerly winds 10 to 20 m.p.h. tomorrow afternoon.

Censorship Of Media Lifted

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Gen. Anastasio Somoza, the Nicaraguan strongman, lifted censorship of newspapers, radio and television after a strike of hospital employees was settled yesterday.

The government put military censors into the newsrooms on April 26, at the peak of the 52-day-old strike, to censor all mention of the strike, charging tha some media were encouraging it. The opposition newspaper La Prensa did not appear several times during the censorship period.

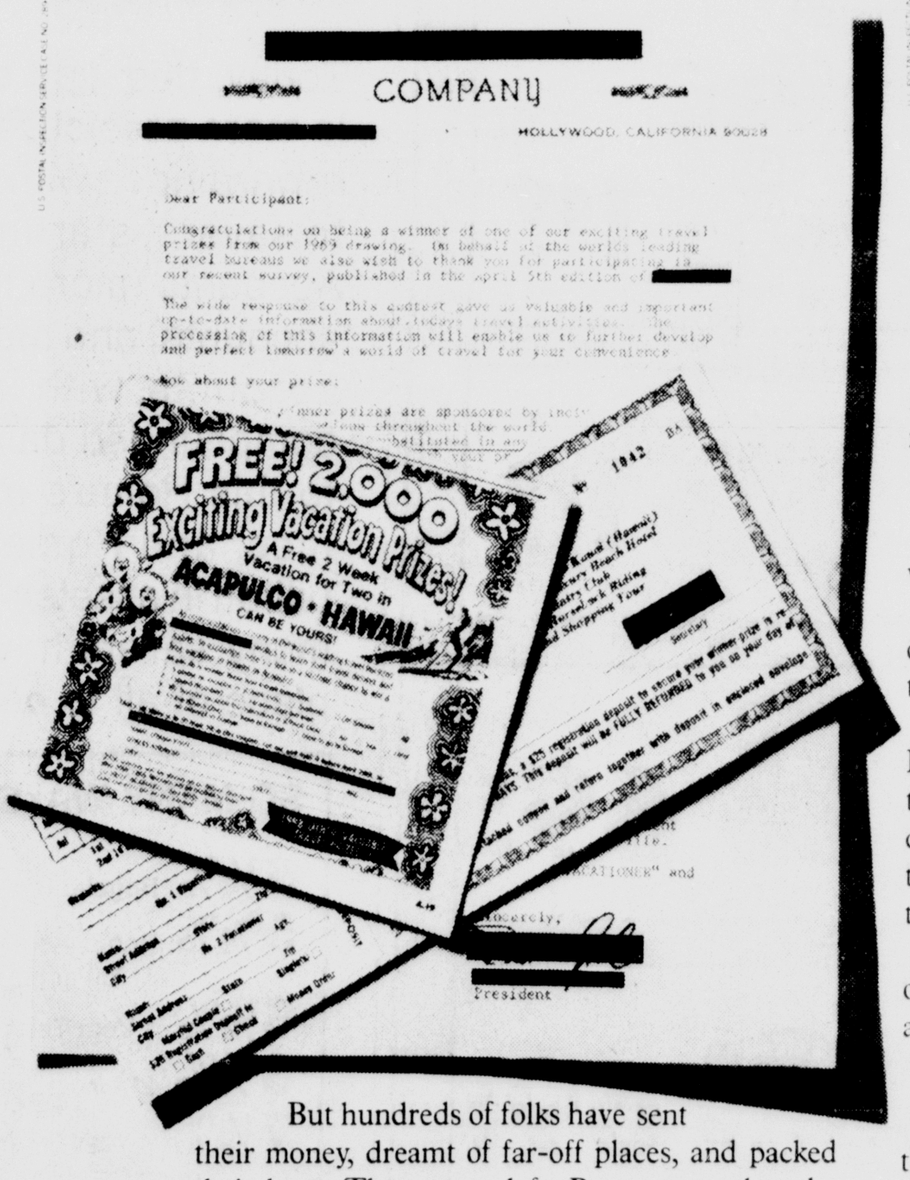
Postmaster Hugh Cassidy, San Rafael, California 94901

When your mail brings you news of an exciting offer or a terrific bargain, you can almost always count on its honesty. That's because you're protected in many ways from phonies who would use the mail to cheat you.

But sometimes when somebody wants to cheat you, he'll still try to use the mail. And that's where the Post Office comes in—on your side. Some of the schemes we stop are pretty slick. Here are some popular examples to watch out for.

The free vacation trick.

You get a letter that says you've won an all-expense-paid vacation to some dream spot. All you have to do is send a deposit, and you'll get that back when you leave. You're right if you say it's too good to be true.



But hundreds of folks have sent their money, dreamt of far-off places, and packed their bags. They never left. But you can bet the crooks who got their money did.

The retirement home swindle.

Maybe you get a telephone call or read an ad that says "Buy a King-Sized Western Estate, Just $1 Down and $10 a Month." The price is so low you might think you can't lose, and you buy the land sight unseen.

A lot of people have done it, and made plans for settling down on their land and building lovely retirement homes. That's before they finally find out the sad truth.

$1 down and $10 a month turns out to be a high price to pay for land you couldn't even give away.

Maybe the cruelest trick of them all is a crook who sends COD merchandise to names on the obituary page of the newspaper. One guy even sent out Bibles this way.

He figured a close relative would assume the Bible was ordered by the deceased. And pay for it, no questions asked. Too often, he was right.

We put these crooks in jail.

It's our job to keep you safe from people who would use the mail to cheat you.

There are 1700 Postal Inspectors across the country who do this. And nobody wants the Inspectors on their trail.

Proof is, when a general store with a small Post Office inside was broken into a few years back, the burglars made a chalk line on the floor to divide off the Post Office. They were so afraid of the Inspectors, they scrawled the message: "Inspectors, we didn't cross that line!"

The Inspectors put thousands of crooks out of business last year. And you can rest assured they aren't around to cheat you anymore.

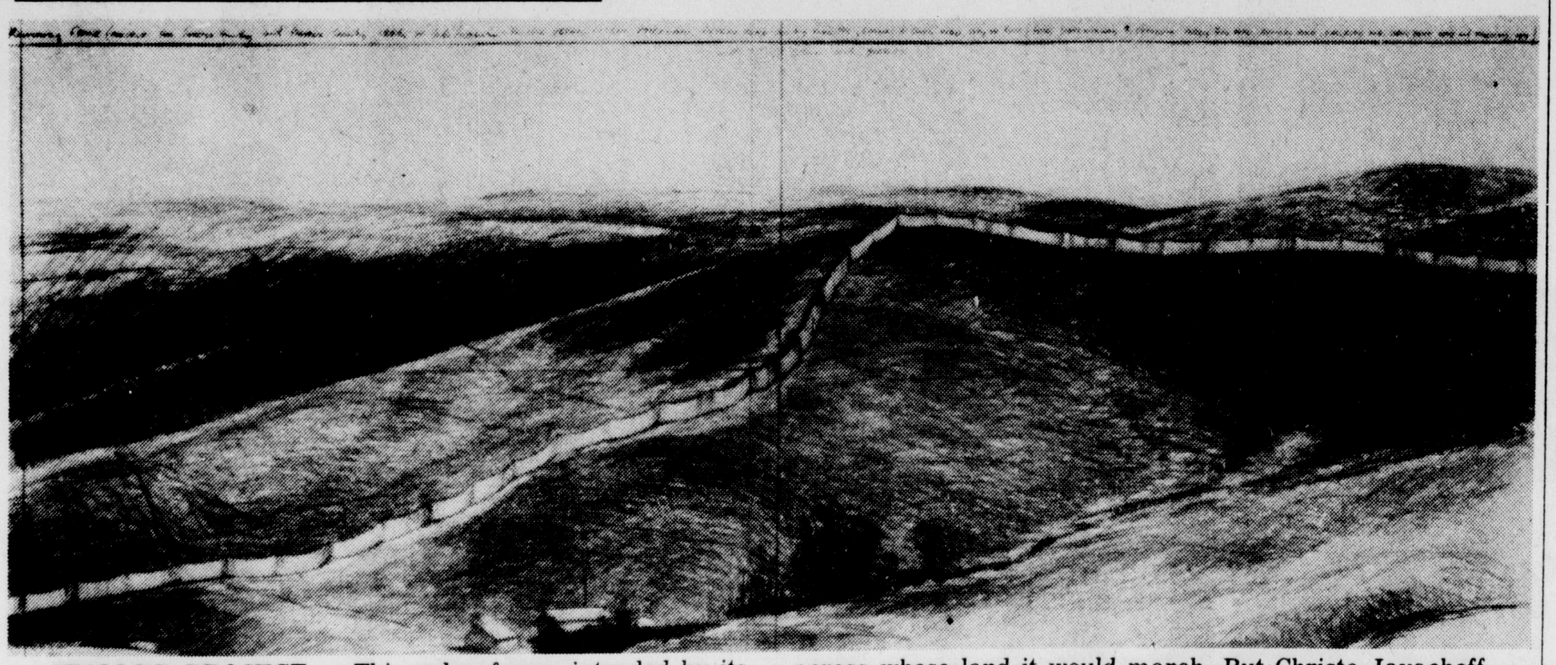
The safest mail in the world.

Thanks to the Postal Inspectors, you've got the safest mail of any country in the world. But be suspicious of something-for-nothing schemes. Never buy land sight unseen. And don't accept COD merchandise you didn't order.

If you should have a question about something that looks fishy, get in touch with us right away. Save the envelope. Save all of its contents. That'll help the Inspectors. And, we might be able to save you from a costly mistake, if the Inspectors are already into the case.

We want you to be able to trust your mail. And we're proud you can.

You have questions.
We want you to have the answers.



STALLED PROJECT — This nylon fence, intended by its creator to follow hill and dale from Petaluma to the sea, has not met eager acceptance from all property owners across whose land it would march. But Christo Javacheff, who plans it as an impermanent, indeed fleeting, artwork, hopes to win over the holdouts.

Running Fence Art Plan Delayed

The running fence project, the nylon and wire conceptual artwork which is to run from Petaluma to Bodega Bay, won't be built this month as artist Christo Javacheff had hoped.

"Right now it looks more like the first of June," Petaluma rancher Hans Raven told the Independent-Journal. He is charged with persuading about 50 Marjn and Sonoma landowners to allow the fence to cross their lands.

As inducement the landowners are being offered such things as television sets.

At the moment, though, only about half the property owners have granted permission, Raven said.

The artist gained a certain amount of fame in 1969 by wrapping in fabric a mile of the Australian coast near Sydney. In 1972 he hung a huge orange curtain across a canyon near Denver. He also has wrapped up trees, rooms and naked girls.

The running fence, which Christo predicts will blow apart within a few days of its erection, is his largest project to date — it will be 20 miles long.

Raven said that, as far as he knows, the artist has obtained permission to build from Marin and Sonoma County authorities as well as the U.S. Coastal Commission.

Christo, who doesn't like to use his last name, claims he finances his projects by selling books about them. The running fence carries a $500,000 price tag.

The Redwoods Is In Money Trouble

The Mill Valley City Council agreed last night to meet with representatives of the Community Church Retirement Center in an effort to bail out the financially troubled project for the elderly. (Another Mill Valley Council story, page 1.)

A spokesman for The Redwoods, a 304-unit low and moderate-cost project, surprised councilmen by saying the still-incomplete development is in "dire straits."

"We're $40,000 in debt, we've raised rents $100 a month and we've had to borrow furniture," said Richard Burns. "We need relief."

Burns asked councilmen to renegotiate a contract under which The Redwoods pays to the city about $18,000 in lieu of property taxes.

The center is exempt from these taxes, as a nonprofit enterprise, but agreed in 1971 to make the in-lieu payments, though Burns said this agreement is on shaky legal grounds and could be declared invalid in court.

Instead of $18,000, Burns suggested payment of $1,300 yearly — the amount that would be paid if the raw land alone were taxed.

Councilmen retired to a seven-minute closed session, then emerged to agree to renegotiate the city's deal with the retirement center.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

TICKETS — Asked the Golden Gate Bridge District to allow commute bus tickets to be sold at the bus depot in Lytton Square.

CABLE — Asked a citizens committee studying cable television service to report to the council within two months on how expanded television coverage of local events should be accomplished.

SUBDIVISION — Continued to May 20 consideration of a four-lot subdivision at 360 Edgewood Avenue. Councilmen will view the property at 9 a.m. Saturday.

PARKING — Endorsed a plan for 18 parking places in the Sunnyside Avenue area, a redistribution of the present 18 and asked for cost estimates on restriping and installation of meters.

RATS — Heard an attorney for four Ryan Avenue families complain rats have been seen in drainage ditches and sewers on their streets, and asked the city manager to look into the problem.

BIKE — Eliminated parking on Miller Avenue between Millwood and Willow avenues and ordered a bicycle lane added in place of the parking lane. Parking will continue to be permitted in the center divider of Miller.

LIGHTING — Approved a recommendation by the street lighting committee to spend about $2,000 for 14 light fixtures for Miller Avenue near La Goma Street.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. May 20 at city hall.

Transplant Said A Last Resort

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The public has placed an "overemphasis" on heart transplant operations, Dr. Michael DeBakey, one of the first to perform the operation, said yesterday.

"The central issue in heart research is still the fact we don't understand what causes heart disease in the first place," DeBakey told a news conference.

DeBakey said he has not performed any transplant operations at Methodist Hospital in Houston in several years. Only one of his 12 heart transplant patients is still alive.

A friend of ours recently spent the evening up on Broadway, instead of driving all the way to San Rafael where we are. It cost him $3.00 for parking, $51.87 for dinner, $48.50 for drinks, tips, and cover charge at a topless night club, and $75,000 plus his lawyer's fee of $3,500 for his subsequent divorce. Dominic's isn't cheap, but considering the atmosphere, superb food, and the possible savings, we're certainly worth a fifteen minute drive.

Imitating what actually happened in the San Fernando Valley earthquake of 1971, about 120 youngsters will be evacuated from two Marin County schools Friday morning. They will be part of the county's fourth disaster training exercise.

County and city disaster workers will react to theoretical problems resulting from an imaginary earthquake that is to strike at 8:27 a.m. Based on a federal study of potential earthquake damage if the San Andreas Fault generates a 7.0-magnitude shock, disaster workers will test their ability to evacuate potential flooding areas downstream from Phoenix Lake dam in the upper Ross Valley, and below Stafford Dam in Novato.

About 60 youngsters from Ross Elementary School and a similar number from Lu Sutton School in Novato will be evacuated. The test is planned to see how well the transportation plans, Red Cross and county social service department shelter and feeding plans, and the emergency radio systems will work in a real emergency.

The San Fernando temblor resulted in evacuation of thousands of families from lowlands downstream of the Van Norman dam, which threatened to collapse.

Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin County Water District officials stress that their dams can resist even heavier earthquakes than the hypothetical one planned. Nevertheless, the training exercise is needed to focus on evacuation needs, explained Frank E. Kirby, county coordinator of emergency services.

Code name for the training drill will be "Exercise MADAM/MORFED," Kirby said.

It will involve county officials from Board of Supervisors Chairman Michael Wornum on down, officials of Novato, Ross, San Anselmo and other cities, fire chiefs, hospitals, and school districts.

Sidney Smith of the county schools office said each public and private school in Marin has been asked to conduct a semi-annual disaster drill as required by state law, at the same time.

The youngsters from Ross School will walk across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to the Barn at Marin Art and Garden Center. There, Red Cross and county social service workers will set up a shelter and check in youngsters, feed them a snack and return them to their classrooms by their normal lunch hour.

Lu Sutton School's two participating classes will be taken by bus to the girls' gym at Novato High School, where a similar emergency shelter and feeding program will be set up.

A key operation in any real emergency is to determine the dollar value of damage, in order to get state and federal emergency proclamations and assistance. Kirby reported that several airplanes will be in the air Friday, with observers rehearsing how they would estimate damage in a real disaster.

All cities' officials also will be asked to supply disaster estimates based on federal earthquake studies. One of the chief bottlenecks in the floods that turned Marin into a disaster area in early 1973 was getting damage figures to justify state and federal assistance, Kirby recalled.

The training drill is to conclude by noon, with observer teams holding evaluation sessions later, Kirby said.

The potential evacuation areas are based on water engineers' studies of watersheds below each dam in Marin, made to comply with state and federal laws, Kirby added.

Disaster workers will be using maps indicating what areas would flood if there were sudden, total collapse of the dams — an unlikely event, water district officials said. Nevertheless, if a quake ever made the dams potentially unsafe, "we'd have to put lives above everything else" and evacuate downstream areas, Kirby explained.

Police Chief And Commission Members Appointed By Council

The San Rafael City Council last night appointed a new police chief, filled three vacancies on the parks and recreation commission, and named a seven-member citizens committee on cable television.

The council confirmed the city administration's recommendation that Lawrence Kelly become police chief Aug. 1 when Joseph J. Brusatori retires. Kelly, 35, has served on the San Rafael force since January as deputy chief.

Named to vacancies on the parks and recreation commission were Del Davis of 594 Tanbark Terrace, William A. Love of 43 Tan Oak Circle and Vernon H. Nicholson of 563 Las Colindas Road. Two of the vacancies were created when the council expanded the agency from five to seven members, and the other when Jack MacPhee resigned.

Appointed to the citizens advisory committee on cable television were all residents who applied: Ronald H. Coelyn of 22 Woodside Way; Virgil S. Hollis of 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera; Christel Mandanis of 31 Montecito Road; Neil R. McHugh of San Ramon, (employee of Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., the city cable franchisee); William E. Osterhaus of 12 Lochness Lane; John R. Palunco of 34 Loma Court, and Paul W. Robinson, director of administrative services for San Rafael City Schools.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

OPEN SPACE — Adopted the open space and conservation element of the general plan after noting the planning commission had revised the document in accordance with council wishes.

CABLE TV — Postponed consideration of a rate increase request by Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., pending study by the city's newly-appointed citizens committee on cable television.

FIRE DETECTION — Approved an amendment to the fire code requiring smoke detection systems in buildings of 5,000 square feet to 15,000 square feet in area, and sprinkler systems in buildings over 15,000 square feet.

SUBDIVISION — Upheld a planning commission denial of a subdivision on Francisco Boulevard. Attorney Wallace S. Meyers appealed the decision for owner Fred Grange.

SIGNS — Reaffirmed a previous directive to City Atty. Fred C. Robbins by ordering him to go to court to seek abatement of nonconforming signs in the city as grace periods expire under the city sign ordinance. The council also told staff to draft a detailed report on sign regulations envisioned under redevelopment.

BIDDING — Said contractors bidding on public works contracts must first obtain city business licenses.

PATROL BOAT — Told City Mgr. William J. Bielser to seek a $20,000 state grant for a patrol boat for use 16 hours per week on the San Rafael Canal. The state has offered to fund acquisition of the boat provided the city staff it 20 hours per week.

SUMMER INTERNS — Said the city will hire two summer interns under a program by the Marin County Youth Commission at $2 hourly each.

SANTA MARGARITA — Accepted a petition urging formation of an open space assessment district in the Santa Margarita area, and told several members of the audience who said they oppose such a district that protests may be filed when the matter is heard at a public hearing, not set as yet.

LEVEE — Put over to June 3 consideration of an easement abandonment at 490 Canal Street. Landowners want to develop the property, but opponents contend the parcel is the last public access strip to the San Rafael Canal on the street.

BOYD MUSEUM — Called for bids for restoration of the Boyd Museum House after approving improvement plans by architect Milton Chambers.

SALARY — Endorsed terms of a wage and fringe benefit settlement for all city employees except firemen, with whom negotiations are continuing. Terms of the settlement call for a 8.2 per cent cost of living hike and $15 monthly increase in insurance payments, among other benefits.

BURGLARY — Said the police department and local Scout groups will distribute 15,000 copies on a burglary prevention manual developed by local police. The handsome, 128-page manual covers topics ranging from bunco artists to drug abuse.

SPEED LIMITS — Boosted from 25 to 30 miles per hour the speed limit on Lincoln Avenue between the Highway 101 off-ramp and Linden Lane, and on D Street between First Street and Antonette Avenue. "This (30 miles per hour) is what they are going anyway," explained Ely Caillouette Jr., public works director.

NUISANCE ABATEMENT — Approved an ordinance tightening city power to abate nuisances on private property, and giving the city broad power to require residents to improve property in disrepair or disorder.

PARKING — Said parking meter limits on Hetherton Street will be boosted from five to ten hours.

PARKS — Said city parks will close at 11 p.m. rather than midnight.

OPEN SPACE — Told the city open space committee to draft a priority list of city open space lands before drafting a report on possible ways to finance open space acquisition.

ROAD — Said a road leading to Beach Park near Dominic's Restaurant will be called Beach Park Road.

ADJOURNMENT — Canceled its May 20 meeting due to a conflict with the city Centennial celebration, and said the council will meet next Monday instead.

29 Receive Jobs Through Center

Twenty-nine persons gained employment last month through the free employment service program at the Novato Human Needs Center, according to Juanita Sawyer, center employment coordinator.

Residents interested in hiring someone or looking for a job can notify her at the center, 1523 South Novato Boulevard, between 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

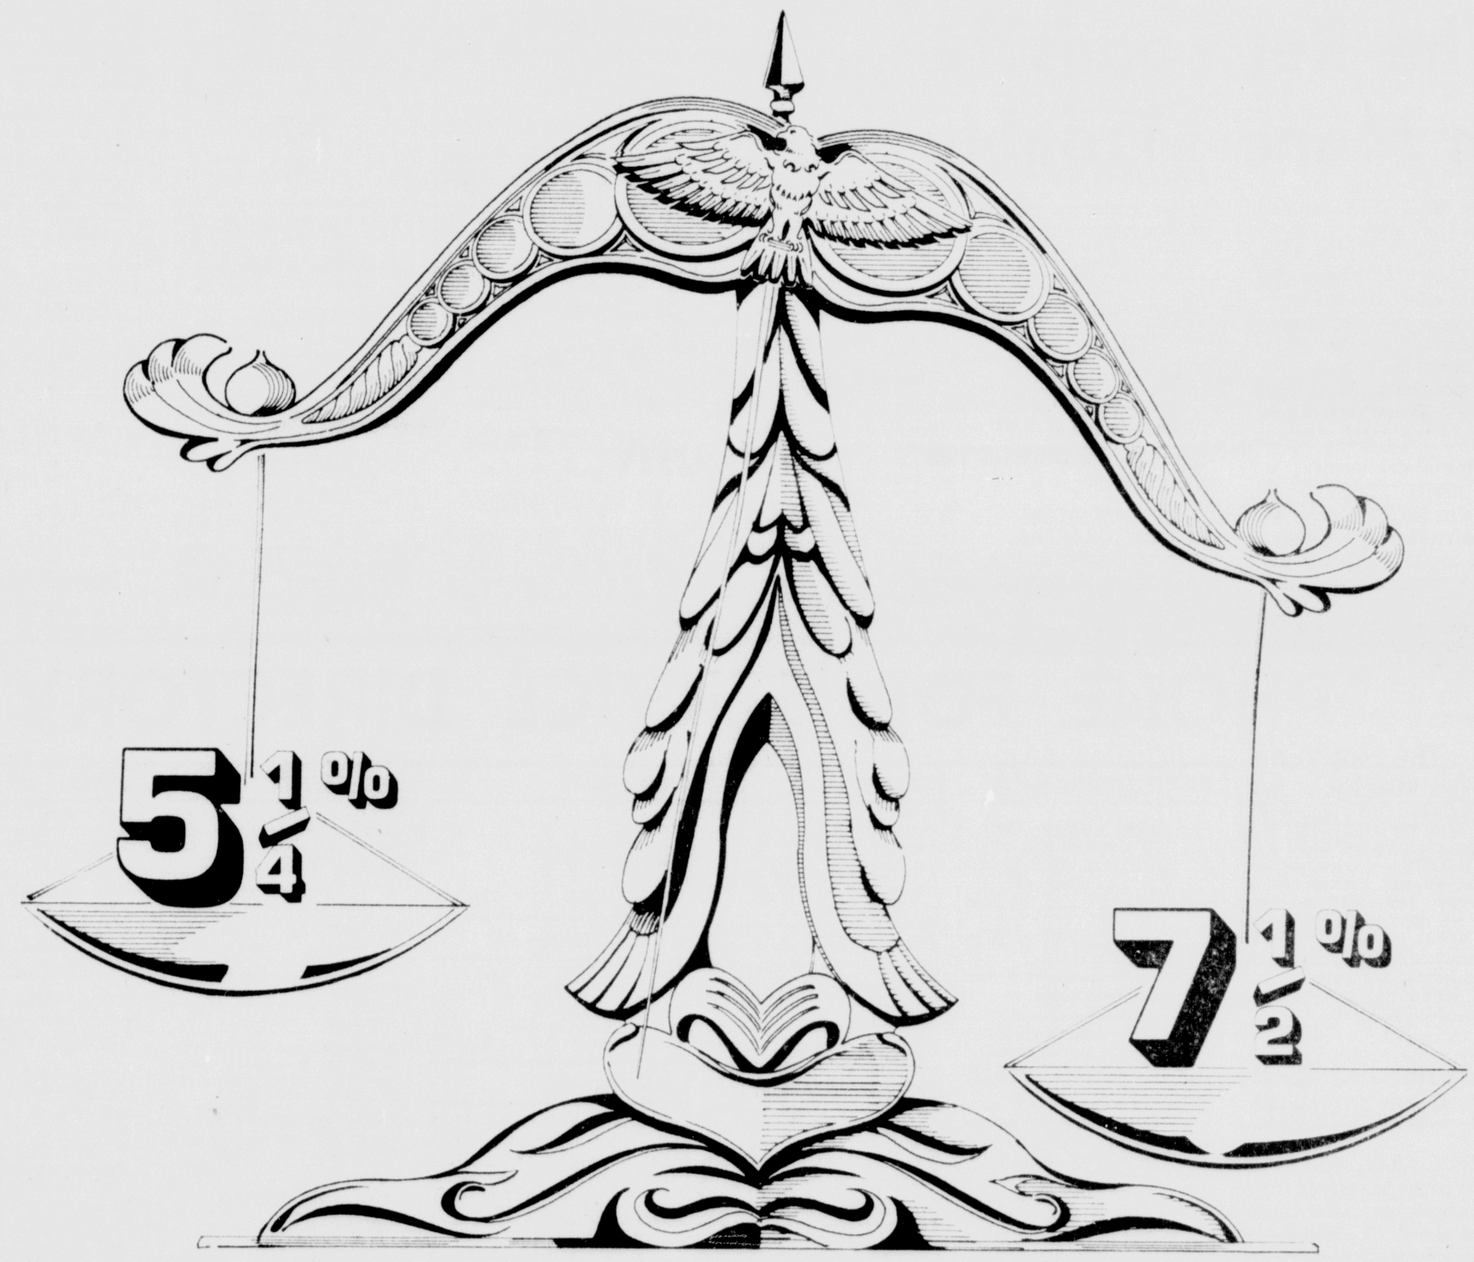
Hike Asked In Garbage Pickup Rate

The Mill Valley Refuse Co. asked the Strawberry Recreation District board last night to grant increases in garbage collection rates in Strawberry, but the board postponed decision.

According to Gayle L. Hunter, district manager, the firm wants a 15 per cent increase in rates immediately, followed by a 10 per cent increase in January. A resident who has two cans emptied weekly now pays $4.35 per month. His rate would go to $5 and then to $5.50 under the schedule of increases.

Miss Hunter said the board decided the firm's attorney must be present before the raises can be discussed. No date was set to consider the matter again.

Also last night, a citizens committee working for passage of a $500,000 open space bond issue in Strawberry announced that it will hold a special meeting to discuss the bond election with residents on May 22 at 8 p.m. at the Strawberry Recreation Center.



An Interesting Balance

Most people like to weigh carefully the benefits of the regular passbook account before depositing their funds in higher interest rate accounts. Our savings experts are especially trained to help you make this decision.
With our interest compounded daily you can earn the highest rates payable on federally insured savings accounts in the nation. Save with safety and enjoy the courteous, personalized services we offer. Free Checking Accounts*, Free Travelers Checks, Free Safe-Deposit Boxes, New Construction Loans, and Free Collection Service on Second Deeds of Trust are just a few of the services available at First Federal . . . an excellent way to keep your balance.

Centennial Parade Lineup Told

More than 200 entries for the San Rafael Centennial Parade along Fourth Street beginning at 1 p.m. May 26, will make it "one of the longest parades in Northern California history, and certainly the most colorful", according to the parade committee.

Forty floats, 11 military and civilian bands, bagpipers, drill teams, horsemen, comedy acts, antique cars and horsedrawn vehicles will take approximately three hours to pass the reviewing stand at Courthouse Square.

Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded in 13 categories, with a sweepstakes trophy going to the entry which best depicts the parade theme: "San Rafael, the past 100 years."

Members of Nick Dollwet's parade committee are Marston S. Hecht, Earl and Eugenie Grady, Raymond H. Shone, Al Hill, Lorraine Dollwet, Norris M. Rawles, John H. Fye, John Streckfus and Larry Qvistgaard. Hecht, assisted by members of the Mount Tamalpais Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, is in charge of lining up and deploying parade entrants. Shone will be parade announcer. The Gradys and the Hecht are noted for their chairmanship of San Rafael parades in decades past including the annual Fiesta Days parades which were discontinued in 1953.

The parade will form at Fourth and E streets, and end at San Rafael High School. Traffic will be blocked for most of Sunday morning on Fourth from H to Grand Avenue and on Fifth Avenue from H to C in preparation for the event.

The judging stand will face toward St. Raphael's Church on Fourth Street at A, the Courthouse Square; the announcement stand will be on the opposite side of Fourth at A Street.

The Pacific Coast Judges Assn. will judge bands and drill teams, the California Horsemen's Assn. will judge all mounted units; floats will be judged by a trio of Northgate businessmen. Hanlon P. Tharp, principal of San Pedro School, will head a committee including members of the Centennial Committee, to judge for the sweepstakes prize.

Motorcycles of the San Rafael Police Department will lead off, escorting Centennial Chairman and parade Grand Marshal Judge Thomas F. Keating, Police Chief and Honorary Grand Marshal Joseph J. Brusatori and Mrs. Paul Bettini riding in a $20,000 1911 Chalmers antique car driven by Bob Wiedenmeyer of Novato.

Six eagle scouts from Terra Linda and Marinwood troops will be in the leadoff color guard, followed by the San Rafael High School Flag Girls and Bulldog Marching Band, directed by Charlene Wilkerson.

Other units in this first or escort division, which sets the theme for the parade, will include:

The Wells Fargo Stage Coach, with San Rafael Mayor Paul C. Bettini riding shotgun; a covered wagon with Brent Hirchert wagonmaster and Judy Lopes at the reins; the Garman Family (Ray, Heidi and Bridget) from Martinez, in handmade Indian costumes; a Charro and Western mounted unit from Gonzales Hacienda depicting Mexican cattle dons and Western cattle ranchers; Ernie Mangue riding Legonario III, a purebred Spanish and Andalusian stallion, winner of 300 first place trophies in parades throughout the West; St. Raphael's Church float depicting the Mission bell; the 65-person Conquistadores Drum and Bugle Corps from San Bruno, Pacifica, Burlingame, Millbrae, Daly City and South San Francisco; Russian American Heritage Assn. float depicting love story of Count de Rezanov and the Spanish Maria de la Concepcion Arguello, Tanya Orlova of Greenbrae in charge; the San Rafael Volunteer Fire Department parade of antique and modern firetrucks and its Explorer Boy Scout unit; 20 members of the Mounted Sheriff's Posse of Marin, and San Rafael city councilmen aboard horsedrawn surreys.

Jaworski Opposes Reinecke Motion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski yesterday opposed a motion by California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke to move his trial from Washington to his home state.

Reinecke is scheduled to go on trial in federal court here July 15 on three counts of lying to a Senate committee about a donation by the International Telephone and Telegraph Co. for the 1972 Republican National Convention when it was scheduled to be held in San Diego.

Talk On Research

Research in glucagon will be discussed by Dr. Judith D. Kellman of the University of California Medical Center at the monthly meeting of the Marin County Diabetes Association at 7:30 p.m. on May 20 in the Redwood High School Library, Larkspur. A hormone made in the pancreas, glucagon, plays a key role in control of diabetes.

LEGAL NOTICE NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Board of Supervisors will hold public hearings to consider amendments to Title 22 (Zoning) of the Marin County Code, which amendments would reclassify, separably and independently, the following properties in the San Rafael/Sleepy Hollow Divide area, including properties all or partially designated as ridge and upland greenbelt open space in the Marin Countywide Plan. The purpose of the proposed rezoning is to apply very low densities as described in the County of Marin's adopted policies for rezoning open space areas designated in the Marin Countywide Plan, to protect the open space character of the areas and to achieve consistency with the plan's policies. In most cases, a very low density, RMP (Residential, Multiple Planned District), will be recommended because it allows maximum flexibility in building placement and allows either detached or attached units. The Board will consider rezoning to either a higher or lower density according to the specific characteristics of the site, at the time development plans are presented. The possibility of provision of low, moderate, or middle income housing will be one of the considerations to be applied to the decision concerning density at the time of the review of the development.

A. From A-2 (Limited Agricultural District - 2 acre building site): Assessor's Parcels #164-280-27, 35, 164-320-07,08,09, 177-150-10,-13,14,19,20, 177-240-03.

B. From A-2:B-2 (Limited Agricultural District - 10,000 square foot building site): Assessor's Parcels #177-240-06,09,11,16,18.

C. From A-2:B-4 (Limited Agricultural District - one acre building site): Assessor's Parcels #179-242-76, 179-261-70,84.

D. From A-2:B-D (Limited Agricultural District - Sleepy Hollow Area): Assessor's Parcels #176-300-23,24.

E. From R-1:B-D (One-Family Residence District - Sleepy Hollow Area): Assessor's Parcels #176-280-01,02,08,13,14; 176-290-15,-16,17,18,19,20,21,22,23; 177-021-01; 177-041-01,03,04,06,07; 177-071-04,-06,07,10,12,13,14,15,16; 177-091-01,-02,03; 177-092-02; 177-093-02,04-05,-06,07,08,09; 177-111-09,10,11,41,47,48; 177-121-03,04,05,-08,09,10; 177-122-02,04,05,06,07,09,-10; 177-150-01,02,15,17,22,23,24,25.

F. From R-1:B-2 (One-Family Residence District, 10,000 square foot building site): Assessor's Parcels #177-140-02,03-04.

To RMP-__(Residential, Multiple Planned District, density to be determined by Board of Supervisors) or A-__(Agricultural and Conservation District, density to be determined by Board of Supervisors).

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said public hearings will be held in the Board of Supervisors Chambers, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, at which place on May 14, 1974 at 11:00 a.m. the ordinance will be read. On May 21, 1974 at 2:30 p.m. any and all persons interested therein may appear and be heard thereon.

Unusual on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 6:30 p.m. — The Boston Celtics meet the Milwaukee Bucks in game five of their best-of-seven series for the Natinal Basketball Association Championship. Pat Summerall calls the play-by-play while Rick Barry will cover the game as analyst.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 8:30 p.m. — Jack Carter guest stars on the police adventure series, "Hawaii Five-O," as a gambler who becomes the central figure in a macabre lottery based on the projected hour of his own death on "Try to Die on Time."

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 8:30 p.m. — Desperate to escape from bleak poverty, an Oklahoma farm boy leaves his close-knit family to better himself and instead becomes enmeshed in a life of crime and becomes a notorious bank robber of the early 1930s in "The Story of Pretty Boy Floyd." Martin Sheen stars in the title role of Charley Arthur Floyd, Kim Darby stars as Ruby Hardgraves, the girl Charley marries, and Michael Parks stars as Bradley Floyd, Charley's brother.

KGO (7), KNTV (11) 11:30 p.m. — A beautiful and successful British photographer's model is inexplicably drawn to the purchase of an expensive automobile she does not need and which is soon to take her, quite against her will, to the scene of a murder in "One Deadly Owner," a "Wide World of Entertainment" presentation starring Donna Mills, Jeremy Brett and Laurence Payne.

Trooper Stops An 'Empty' Bus

MEDFORD, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon State Trooper Larry Zeller thought something was amiss yesterday when he saw a Greyhound bus traveling along with its driver in civilian clothes and no passengers.

Zeller pulled the bus over to the side of the road and, after questioning the driver, arrested him for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Booked was Michael J. Stewart, 26, Portland, Ore.

The trooper said the bus had been stolen in Woodland, Calif.

Ozawa Suffering From Neck Pains

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Seiji Ozawa, conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, has been hospitalized with acute neck spasms and will be unable to conduct this week's concerts.

The symphony said yesterday that Ozawa was undergoing traction, but that it was not the same ailment that incapacitated the conductor for three weeks in December, 1970.

Kenneth Schermerhorn, music director of the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra, will take Ozawa's place on the podium.

An Acupuncture Clinic Opened

MIDDLEBURY, Conn. (UPI) — Three Chinese-trained doctors were open for business today at the Liao Clinic, the first facility in Connecticut to combine Chinese acupuncture and Western medicine.

Dr. Sung J. Liao of Middlebury, who founded the clinic, is assisted by Dr. Alice Lui and Dr. Clifford Chu. All three received medical training in China and are licensed physicians in Connecticut.

Liao is a physician and authority on physical medicine, Dr. Lui is a cancer specialist formerly associated with the Downstate University Medical Center in Brooklyn and Dr. Chu is a Norwalk Hospital staff member.

Dr. Liao said acupuncture will be used in conjunction with traditional Western medical practice.

Jazz Ensemble To Give Concert

College of Marin Jazz Ensemble will present its spring concert May 16 at 8:30 p.m. in the college fine arts theater and will perform works by Thad Jones, Alf Clausen and Henry Wolking.

"In the Tube," an original composition by second-year music student Mark Adler, will also be featured.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Squabbling On Appointments

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A drive by Senate Democrats to block Gov. Ronald Reagan's "death bed appointments" was criticized today by the chairman of the Senate Republican Caucus.

Sen. Dennis Carpenter, R-Newport Beach, said the effort to withhold Senate confirmation of gubernatorial appointments was "unnecessary and improper" and "just another example of partisan politics as usual."

Senate Democratic leader George Moscone at a news conference yesterday distributed a petition signed by 17 of the state 21 Democratic senators. The document said the lawmakers would "oppose any new appointments whose terms would last beyond the term of the present administration." Moscone called them "death bed appointments."

"Whatever happens in November," Moscone said, "the incoming governor will have a mandate that flies in the face of Reaganism and he ought to be able to chart his own course without a boatload of hacks left over from a previous governor."

Carpenter issued a statement saying, "It would appear that Senator Moscone has come out four-square for the political spoils system, where the winner takes all and dispenses appointments and jobs to the politically faithful."

Moscone said Reagan will have about 150 appointments to make in the next few months—about 50 of which must be confirmed by the Senate.

Only hours after Moscone made the announcement, the Senate, on a 29-0 vote, confirmed the appointments of nine men to the state Board of Forestry.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

THE SENATE

Passed

Women — Directs the Highway Patrol to experimentally hire women officers for a two-year testing period. (SB1859-Walsh, D-Downey. 27-4. To Assembly.)

Consumer — Establishes a one-semester course on consumer economics for junior high and high school students. (SB1599-Carpenter, R-Newport Beach. 24-2. To Assembly.)

School — Eliminates physical education and other minimum attendance requirements for final-semester high school pupils. (SB1856-Stull, R-Leucadia. 29-4. To Assembly.)

COMMITTEES

FINANCE

Approved

Flu — Requires the state to provide free flu shots for all persons over age 65. (AB3157b-Thurman, D-Modesto. 8-2. To Floor.)

Geothermal — Provides for speedy tax writeoffs for geothermal generating plants in hopes of spurring development of the energy resource. (SB1673-Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek. 12-0. To Floor.)

Introduced

THE ASSEMBLY

Passed

Capitol — Orders a study into the possibility of removing Gov. Ronald Reagan's and other "nonlegislative" offices from the century-old Capitol and its newer annex. (AC173-Burton, D-San Francisco. Voice vote.)

Introduced

Kids — Creates an $11 million state institute to keep government officials abreast of the needs of California children. (AB4279-Moretti, D-Van Nuys.)

Election — Prohibits corporations, labor organizations, public employee groups and any of their committees from making expenditures to influence an election. (AB4263-McLen- nan, R-Downey.)

FLU SHOTS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state would provide flu shots free or at "minimal" cost to all Californians age 65 or older under legislation approved yesterday by the Senate Finance Committee.

The service would cost taxpayers about $420,000 a year, but part of the total would be offset by savings in Medical programs, which now pay for flu shots for some elderly residents, according to state health officials.

GEOTHERMAL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee voted yesterday to grant special tax breaks to the geothermal industry over the next 10 years in hopes of spurring development of the energy resource.

On a 12-0 vote, the committee approved a measure (SB1673) to allow quick write offs of the cost of geothermal generating plants and the like.

Two Named Pulitzer Reporters

NEW YORK (UPI) — The trustees of Columbia University yesterday awarded Pulitzer Prizes to two reporters who exposed President Nixon's income tax problems and revealed improprieties in financing his re-election campaign.

The award for a "distinguished example of reporting on national affairs" went to James R. Polk of the Washington Star-News, who was credited with revealing the extent of dairy and trucking industry contributions. He identified Herbert Kalmbach as a secret fundraiser for the President and disclosed the secret $200,000 donation made by Robert Vesco, the New Jersey financier who has since left the country to escape prosecution.

A similar award for national reporting went to Jack White of the Providence (R.I.) Journal and Evening Bulletin, "for his initiative in exclusively disclosing President Nixon's federal income tax payments in 1970 and 1971."

The 58th annual awards, which carry $1,000 prizes, were announced by Columbia President William J. McGill. The trustees acted on the recommendations of an advisory board, which reviewed the decisions of juries in journalism, letters, drama and music.

In the arts category, Robert Lowell won his second Pulitzer for his latest book of poetry, "The Dolphin." There were no awards for fiction or drama.

Joseph Pulitzer, the newspaper publisher who set up the awards in his will in 1911, allowed the trustees to reject recommended candidates but not to substitute their own choices. The first awards were made in 1916.

General or spot news reporting: Arthur M. Petacque and Hugh F. Hough of the Chicago Sun-Times, who charged a convicted burglar with the slaying of Valerie Percy, Sen. Charles Percy's daughter, and reopened the seven-year-old investigation.

Meritorious public service by a newspaper: Newsday, Garden City, N.Y., for a 32-part series of articles, "The Heroin Trail," which traced the route of the drug from its foreign sources to the United States.

Investigative reporting in a local area: William Sherman of New York's Daily News, who exposed abuses of the public health system by masquerading as a Medicaid patient. His reporting resulted in prosecutions and the return of over $1 million to the government.

Reporting on foreign affairs: Hedrick Smith, Moscow correspondent of The New York Times, for his coverage of the Soviet Union and its allies in Eastern Europe.

Editorial writing: F. Gilman Spencer, editor of the Trento (N.J.) Trentonian, "for his courageous campaign to focus public attention on scandals in New Jersey's state government."

Cartooning: Paul Szep of the Boston Globe, much of wtose work in 1973 was devoted to the Watergate affair. When he learned of the award, the Canadian-born Szep said with a smile that he wanted to "give thanks to the Nixon administration."

Commentary: Edwin A. Roberts Jr. of the National Observer for his "Mainstream" column. Roberts says, "I write what's on my mind each week ... This week, for example, I wrote about gardens."

Biography: "O'Neill, Son and Artist," by Louis Sheaffer; the book is the second volume of the definitive biography of the playwright.

Verse: "The Dolphin," by Robert Lowell. Anthony Hecht, a fellow Pulitzer Prize winning poet, described "The Dolphin" as an "intimately linked sonnet sequence with a painful and personal narrative line."

Book not included in another category: "The Denial of Death," a reflective work by Ernest Becker, a professor at the University of British Columbia who died of cancer within a year of completing it.

Polk said in Washington after learning of the award, "This was a year in which six or seven Pulitzers could easily have been awarded for the Agnew story, the Watergate disclosures, the breakdown of the Watergate cover-up, the President's personal finances..."

"I just hope we keep having this kind of reporting ... because that's what we're supposed to do."

Yosemite Park Outing Planned

A Memorial Day weekend trip to Yosemite National Park will be sponsored by the Corte Madera Park and Recreation Department.

Three days of sightseeing will begin May 25 with overnight accommodations in the Wawona Hotel and the Yosemite Lodge. Travel will be by bus.

Greenbrae Doctor Goes To Geneva

Dr. Francis W. Parnell Jr. of Greenbrae, a Marin ear, nose and throat specialist, has gone to Geneva, Swetzerland, where he is an alternate delegate to the 27th session of the World Health Association.

The session, which started today, will continue through May 25.

Football In June For Marin Gridder

Football in June. For Tom Wickert of Greenbrae, the season can't come soon enough. He is going to be the first Marin Countian to play in the Coaches All-America game June 29 in Lubbock, Tex.

Wickert, a senior at Washington State University, found out yesterday he was selected for the all-star game. WSU coach Jim Sweeney's secretary gave him the news after Sweeney received a telephone call from Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer, one of the coaches for the game.

TOM WAS in bed in his apartment at Pullman, Wash., this morning, trying to shake the flu. "I'm really looking forward to playing in that game," he said on the telephone. "Some of the guys around here told me it was a great game, a great experience."

Wickert, an offensive lineman, had been talking about the game to some of the former WSU players who had played in it after learning about his nomination weeks ago. "Ty Paine (quarterback, now trying to win a job with Calgary of the Canadian Football League) and Bernard Jackson (defensive back for the Cincinnati Bengals) both played in the game. So did Ron Mims, one of our assistant coaches."

It's sometimes thought that drafted players under contract with professional teams are told by the pros to skip this game to avoid injury, but Wickert has found otherwise. A ninth round draft choice, Wickert has signed with the world champion Miami Dolphins.

"A Miami scout was up here talking about this game after I had been nominated. He told me it was a great idea and would put in a good word for me. He was all for it."

THERE IS A chance that Wickert, hoping to win a position as backup guard for the Dolphins, will be picked for the July football game between the college all-stars and Dolphins. The question is: which team would he play for? If he is not on that all-star team he would be reporting to the Dolphins' training camp at Biscayne, Fla., on July 7, a week before the veterans show up in camp. But he thinks it might not be such a bad idea to get a chance to play for the college team in that game and block against the Miami defensive line to show his new bosses what he can do.

About the Coaches All-America game, Wickert said, "I'm glad I got picked. Because of that knee operation I got off to a slow start my senior year. This gives me a chance to play against really good players, just like the East-West game. It gives me a chance to get ready for the season."

IT'S ONLY MAY but Wickert can't hide his enthusiasm for football and the opportunity at pro ball. He met the Dolphin coaching staff and the other rookies last March at a rookie training camp. "Monte Clark, our offensive line coach, suggested a few areas for me to work on so I would have a better chance at making the team. He put me on a weight program and suggested some drills for quickness.

Like everybody else, Wickert has no idea whether there will even be a training camp because of the threat of a player strike, but he has to go into it with the assumption that the strike will be averted. "Nobody wants to give in right now."

He's still about 33 units short of receiving his degree and plans to eventually get back to the books. But right now his mind is on football. He's ready to hit.

BATTLING ELEMENTS OF NATURE

It Is Up To A's Dark To Ride Out Storm

OAKLAND (UPI) — Earl Weaver rode out the storm with his Baltimore Orioles and now it's up to Alvin Dark to do the same with the Oakland A's.

Last night, the Orioles snapped a five-game losing streak with a 6-3 victory over the A's. It took Mike Cuellar's best effort of the season and a four-for-four night by Brooks Robinson to get the Birds off the floor—the same one the A's seem to be on today.

With Sal Bando, Ray Fosse and Dick Green on the shelf with various injuries and the team in a horrible hitting slump, the A's bowed to Cuellar without much of a fight.

Joe Rudi and Reggie Jackson hit back-to-back homers for two of the Oakland runs in the first, then Cuellar retired 14 men in a row before the A's scored an unearned run in the sixth.

"That's the way we have been playing," said Weaver of his Orioles. "In the five games we lost we could have won four of them with one little single in the right place. Our pitching has been both good and bad while our hitting has been awful, except for Brooks."

Dark, trying to keep a stiff upper lip while the A's have looked like anything but two-time World Champions, said he's not ready to hit the panic button although Oakland is hitting around .230 as a team.

The A's managed only seven hits off Cuellar, who went the distance for the first time this season to post his initial victory after three losses.

"Mike has pitched good enough to win at least twice before," said Weaver, "but when the team is going bad sometimes things like that get overlooked."

"This (hitting slump) won't last much longer," said Dark bravely. "We have the men to get us out of it. I don't anticipate any deals. We have the guys right here who can get us straightened out."

Paul Lindblad, pressed into service as a starter, was touched for eight hits and four runs in 4 2-3 innings and took his second loss in three decisions.

Bill North came out of an 0-14 hitting slump with a bunt single and Tony Kubiak snapped a 0-15 slump with a line single. Still, both are under the .200 mark as are Deron Johnson and Angel Mangual, who have been put into the lineup with Bando and Fosse out of action.

The Orioles and A's meet again tonight with Ross Grimsley pitching for Baltimore and Ken Holtzman for Oakland.

CARY STANSBURY, 15, QUALIFIES

Youth Must Be Served In Tennis

PORTOLA VALLEY — Youth served yesterday — and volleyed and lobbed and rushed the net and guarded the baseline and eventually triumphed.

Tiburon's Cary Stansbury, only 15, became one of the youngest players ever to qualify for the 74-year-old California State Tennis Championships, which began today at Alpine Hills Tennis Club.

Stansbury overwhelmed Joe Meyers, a student at San Jose State, 6-4, 6-4. He was to meet Stanford sophomore Mark Mitchell today at 1:15 p.m.

In other matches today, Andy Moffatt of Mill Valley was scheduled to meet former Marinite John Zweig and Barry MacKay of Ross was to face Rodney Kop, both at 1:15 p.m. Moffat clobbered Tony Yvanovich yesterday, 6-2, 6-1.

In women's first-round play, Sue Beatty of Tiburon yesterday defeated Phyllis Lewis, 6-1, 6-1, but Cary Stansbury's sister Judy lost to Karen Knoche, 6-0, 6-0.

Warriors' Mieuli Seeks LaRusso

OAKLAND (UPI) — Golden State Warriors' owner Franklin Mieuli says he once got some good advice from Rudy LaRusso so now he not only wants to follow the advice, but to hire the advisor.

He recalled yesterday that he convinced LaRusso to come out of retirement for two seasons as a player but couldn't do it for a third in 1970.

But that's when Larusso told Mieuli that his paternalistic approach as an owner was no good.

"He told me all that stuff about paternal love is just meaningless," Mieuli said. "When the Warriors are in Boston Garden playing before 13,000 screaming fans, they're not thinking what a nice guy Franklin Mieuli is. They're trying to win. Rudy told me I should change my attitude and get tough, do what had to be done so we would win games—not just try to make the players happy.

"I'm stupid," said Mieuli, who admits he is fuming because this year's favored edition of the Warriors did not make it to the playoffs. "I didn't listen to him. I wanted to do it my way. I almost succeeded. I thought when we beat the Lakers back-to-back we had done it. But we didn't."

Mieuli showed he meant business by contacting La Russo yesterday about a possible job in the Warriors' front office in a move that left the status of general manager Bob Feerick up in the air.

"When I talked to Rudy last," said Mieuli, "I told him something like 'you're the architect of this scheme. It's better to have the architect running things.'"

"I'm upset about last season," Mieuli said. "I said before our last home game I'm going to do everything possible to make us winners, and whatever changes this requires I will make. I'm not going to make changes just for the sake of making changes. But if I have to kick myself upstairs for the benefit of the team, then I'll even do that."

Luncheon For Giants May 24 At Hilton Hotel

The third annual civic luncheon for the San Francisco Giants will be held May 24, starting at 11:30 a.m. in the San Francisco Hilton Hotel's Imperial Ballroom.

No host cocktails begin at 11:30 followed by the luncheon at 12:15 p.m. All Giant players, coaching staff and management will attend.

Prep Track, Golf Events Rescheduled

San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools will meet Thursday at 3:30 p.m. at Terra Linda in a makeup of a previously rained out Marin County Athletic League track and field meet.

In other reschedulings, Tamalpais' golf team will host Terra Linda tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at Mill Valley Municipal, and will visit San Marin next Monday at 3 p.m. at Indian Valley.

Giants-Mets Game Called

NEW YORK (UPI) — After a 65-minute delay, the umpires finally gave it up and called last night's scheduled San Francisco Giant-New York Mets game because of rain.

They'll try to play two today instead with the Giants' Ron Bryant and Jim Barr both slated to bring 0-1 records in against Tom Seaver and George Stone of the hosts.

Mt. Tamalpais Wins In Golf, Tennis Play

Mt. Tamalpais School of Ross, undefeated in tennis and golf this spring, won a Bay Counties League match in each sport yesterday.

The golfers (2-0) defeated College Prep of Oakland at Meadow Club, 6½ to 2½, as Jim Tufts shot a two-over-par 38, while the netters (5-0) topped Marin Academy (3-3), 5-0, behind Jeff Edwards' 6-4, 4-6, 6-2 victory over Mike Wagner.

MacFarland Quits

PHOENIX (UPI) — William MacFarland, president of the Western Hockey League, resigned yesterday and joined the Phoenix franchise of the World Hockey Association as president.

Drake Netters Win

Drake High School improved its Marin County Athletic League tennis record to 8-2 yesterday with a 7-0 sweep of Marin Catholic (2-8) at College of Marin, with Gene Lachelt defeating Frank Casella in first singles, 6-1, 6-1.

Scott, Kehl To Coach Football All-Stars

Scott, of Novato High School, will coach the Marin team, while Kehl, of Petaluma, will handle the Sonoma squad.

It replaces the Marin North-South all-star game which the club sponsored for eight years. It will be held Aug. 17 at 8 p.m. at San Rafael High School.

Kehl coached Petaluma to two consecutive North Bay League championships, and a 7-7 tie and 7-6 victory in two Top of the Bay Bowl appearances against the Marin County Athletic League representative.

Scott coached Novato to a share of the MCAL title last year, a bowl berth and the one-point loss to Kehl's Trojans. Novato did not allow a touchdown in its final five regular-season games.

Assisting Scott will be Don Lucas of Terra Linda and Phil Roark of co-champion Redwood. Kehl's assistants will be Hank Stiefel of Montgomery (Santa Rosa) and Claude Brock of Rancho Cotate.

Coaches were chosen by consensus of fellow coaches within their leagues. The three-man staffs then met to nominate the players, who will be announced later.

The seven MCAL schools plus Marin Catholic comprise the Marin team. The 12 Sonoma County teams of the North Bay, Sonoma County and North Central leagues comprise the Sonoma team. Tomales players will join the Sonoma squad.

Redwood Takes Lead In Golf

Redwood High School (9-2), led by Mark Ohrenschall's 35 and Blake Andros' 38, won its eighth straight golf match yesterday and took over first place in the Marin County Athletic League with a 200-206 victory over arch rival Novato (8-3).

STANDINGS

Redwood 9-2, San Rafael 8-2, Novato 8-3, Marin Catholic 6-5, Terra Linda 4-5, Tamalpais 2-7, Drake 2-8, San Marin 1-8.

RESULTS

Marin Catholic 219, Tamalpais 233, at Meadow Club. Mark Bartolini (MC), 38 (two over).

College Of Marin Tennis Duo Beaten

SARATOGA — College of Marin's doubles team of John Beritzhoff and Mark Rodnick was defeated yesterday in the semi-finals of the Camino Norte Conference tournament at West Valley College here.

They fell to Tim McNeil and Andy Lucchesi of Canada College (Redwood City), 6-4, 6-2. Nonetheless, they are eligible for the Northern California championships here beginning Thursday, because they reached the quarter-final round.

Philadelphia Is Tennis Victor

Combined AP & UPI

PHILADELPHIA — Elizabeth Taylor was a no-show, but an announced crowd of 10,611 was on hand last night for the opening of the World Team Tennis season between the Philadelphia Freedoms and the Pittsburgh Triangles.

WTT commissioner George MacCall started off the festivities by spinning a racket for first serve in place of the screen actress.

The contest then got underway in earnest with Freedom's player-coach Billie Jean King and Evonne Goolagong splitting their singles sets enroute to a 31-25 Philadelphia victory.

Mrs. King lost the opening set to Miss Goolagong 6-3 but came back after intermission to take the second 6-2.

Pittsburgh player-coach Ken Rosewall dropped his opening set to Brian Fairlie 6-2 and came back to top the New Zealander 6-3 in their second set.

But Philadelphia won both sets of mixed doubles, with Fred Stolle and Julie Anthony downing Isabell Fernandez and Vitas Girulaitis 7-6 in the first set and the same duo defeating Girulaitis and Peggy Michael 6-3 in the second.

Golf Season Just Starting For Peterson

SONOMA — The season ended yesterday for College of Marin's other golfers, but it is really beginning for Lee Peterson.

Peterson yesterday qualified for the Northern California championships, and a shot at the state title, by finishing third individually in the Camino Norte Conference tournament at Sonoma National Golf Course.

Peterson had a 36-hole scratch total of 79-79—158, 14 over par and 11 behind leader Mark Sparzo of Santa Rosa Junior College.

Marin finished fourth at 984. The top two teams, Foothill (Los Altos) and West Valley (Saratoga), qualified for Nor Cal. Santa Rosa was third.

The 36-hole Nor Cal tournament will be played Monday at 7 a.m. at Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton.

PREP OF WEEK

San Rafael Duo Won't Be Denied

By LEW CODDINGTON

They started swimming so they wouldn't be left out. Now, they're leaving everybody else behind.

Ken DeMont and Scott Hislop, two swimmers from San Rafael High School, led a Bulldog blitz Saturday in the Class B portion of the Division II meet at Redwood High. Each set two meet records and swam on a record-setting relay team to be named Independent-Journal co-Preps of the Week.

Hislop won the 200-yard freestyle in 1:49.7 and the 500 free in 5:04.3, while DeMont took the 100 free (51.2) and 100 back (58.0). They joined Jeff Kamler and Mike Keck to do 3:24.5 for the 400 free relay.

They can do better, and hope to in the North Coast Section meet Friday and Saturday in Richmond. Scott feels he can dive below five minutes in his longer race and chop "a second or two" off his other time, while Ken already has done 50.1 and 56.0.

Like many of Marin's top swimmers, they belong to the Marin Aquatic Club, coached by Don Swartz, and face top Amateur Athletic Union competition the year round.

DeMont, in fact, said he transferred from Terra Linda High to San Rafael because Bulldog coach Bill Ranney was willing to permit him to work out exclusively with Marin A.C. He, Hislop and the other Marin A.C. swimmers generally join the team only for meetings and practices.

DeMont, 16, a junior, swam for Terra Linda as a freshman, sat out last year, then transferred. He was ineligible for one semester, missing last fall's water polo season.

Both got into swimming for the simple reason that everybody else was doing it. "My sisters persuaded me," said Scott. "I was the only one in the family not swimming." Jo, 18, is still swimming competitively and Kathi, 20, recently stopped.

"The neighbors catch on, too," Scott added. "Now our whole street is doing it, including Mike Keck and some others."

"If you don't participate, you're kind of left out," Ken echoed. The left-out feeling was especially acute in his case since his brother Rick was showing a special fondness for the water which later led him to the ill-starred Olympics of 1972.

(Swimming is as much a family craze in the DeMont household as it is with the Hislops. Ken's sisters Diane, 12, and Jeanine, 9, also swim.)

Having a famous brother can be a problem at times. "People who don't know swimming try to associate me with my brother," he said, "but I want to be an individual."

Ken swims shorter distances and different strokes than Rick, specializing in butterfly, backstroke and individual medley up to 400 yards. Rick set records in the 400 and 1,500 meter freestyles.

Both agreed that swimming takes much of their free time with its demands for three or four hours a day of practice. Scott, 15, a sophomore, had to drop out of the marching band last year (he plays trombone) because it conflicted with water polo. It hasn't forced him to give up his 10-speed bicycle, though. And both manage to study enough to maintain 3.4 grade averages.

Ken abandoned his specialties to swim 100 free and 100 back Saturday "to help the team. Everybody wants the team title." With DeMont and Hislop to lead the way into the North Coast meet, San Rafael's chances look good.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Stripers Still Not Showing

The striped bass fishing is still on the tough side. No stripers were checked either Saturday or Sunday around San Pablo Bay. I saw an angler out at the Shellbank catch one about 12 inches long. When he boated the fish, he and his two buddies had a long discussion, possibly about keeping that undersized fish. One of the crew kept shaking his head and the fish was finally released. Maybe he knew something; or he had the right vibes!

Not many sturgeon were taken either. Didn't see any Sunday while out on the bay. On Saturday, even though it was reported as windy and rough, a few sturgeon were taken above the China Camp area. One party boat took six, and Sam Knoles checked in with a 50-pounder at Loch Lomond.

ANOTHER COUPLE OF weeks and those spawning stripers now up in the Delta should be returning to this area and they will be hungry. Start polishing up your trolling spoons.

It's the time of year for our game birds to have their young. Quite a number of mallards do their nesting in the marsh areas in Marin County. It's the time of year when we should stay away and keep our dogs away from these nesting areas. About 10 nests were noted in a small marsh this past week, all doing fine. The eggs in three nests were hatched out and the ducklings were also doing fine. That's good news.

IN ANOTHER AREA of the state some elaborate methods are being used to safeguard just one nest — it's that important.

An electronic trespass detection system has been placed in operation on Morro Rock, San Luis Obispo County, to protect this historic nesting site of the American peregrine falcon and to promote public safety.

Installation of the device was announced jointly by the California Department of Fish and Game, the Defenders of Wildlife and the Audubon Society. Defenders of Wildlife and the Audubon Society shared in the $6,000 cost of the system.

The device, which was developed by the California Crime Technological Research Foundation based in Sacramento, is designed to alert law enforcement officials to the presence of persons on the massive, 576-foot-high rock in Morro Bay.

THE PLIGHT OF THE peregrine falcon on Morro Rock, situated on Morro Bay State Park, became known in 1972 when falconers twice were apprehended descending from the rock and young birds were discovered missing.

Although State Department of Parks and Recreation regulations prohibit climbing the rock because of considerations of human safety, people still attempt the feat and 10 have fallen to their deaths.

In April 1973 the California Fish and Game Commission, in cooperation with the Department of Parks and Recreation, declared Morro Rock to be a natural preserve for the peregrine falcon and prohibited persons from entering the reserve.

"This action," the announcement said, "should assure these peregrines the opportunity to successfully nest and bring forth their young, protected as they are from human encroachment."

A SALINAS HUNTER who admitted killing a mountain lion was fined $250 and placed on three years probation in Monterey Municipal Court on April 22.

Dennis Hanna was arrested by state game warden James E. Wade after a lengthy investigation which involved blood typing by the Department of Fish and Game's crime laboratory and the assistance of four other wardens.

Hanna pleaded guilty to shooting the lion after his pack of hounds had treed it on the Frances Hastings Natural History Reservation in upper Carmel Valley Feb. 3.

Estimated $12,000 Raised In Walk

Six hundred persons walked 20 miles Saturday in raising a projected $12,000 during the 20-mile Happiness Walk. The United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, Inc. sponsored the event in which walkers went from Redwood High School in Larkspur to Miller Creek School in San Rafael.

"Once the figures are tabulated I think it will show we raised about $12,000," said Judi Hudson, walkathon coordinator.

The Marin Banjo Band serenaded the walkers en route and Back-End Loader, a San Francisco rock and roll band, also entertained. The Northgate chapter of the Lion's Club provided volunteers.

Persons were asked to pledge money for every mile walked. Novato High School student Chris Pilkington received the largest total pledge, $465.90.

Judi was enthusiastic about the showing. She said, "About 80 per cent of the walkers finished, and everybody had a good time." There were other similar walks throughout the Bay Area.

3 Marinites In NorCal Meet's Steeplechase

OAKLAND — Taking their own solitary route, three College of Marin steeplechasers yesterday qualified for the Northern California meet.

Dan Turek won in 9:54.4, Mike Killeen was third in 10:00.6 and John Streett was fifth in 10:02.7 in the Camino Norte Conference 3,000-meter steeplechase at Laney College's course here.

The performances propelled them into the NorCal Trials next Tuesday at Diablo Valley College in Pleasant Hill. The finals will be held there May 18.

The Camino Norte meet in other events was held Saturday at Marin, and the NorCal Trials in other events are slated tomorrow at Modesto Junior College.

Flurry Of Action At Indy Practice

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Indianapolis 500 practice, delayed a week in the name of energy conservation, opened with a record flurry of activity yesterday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

A veteran track official was injured in a two-car dash to be the first onto the 2½-mile oval but, otherwise, practice for the May 26 classic went off without a hitch on opening day.

Twenty-seven cars were on the track, which is a record for the first day of practice. The old record was 13 back in 1961.

Because of the shortened practice period, drivers and crews also apparently were ahead of time in attaining speeds. Time trials begin Saturday.

Former 500 champ Bobby Unser, of Albuquerque, N.M., had the day's top speed at 188.245 miles per hour. Mike Mosley, of Clermont, Ind., had a lap at 184.312 m.p.h., while Salt Walther, Dayton, Ohio, severely injured in a fiery accident in last year's race, was back and turned a lap at 183.154.

Hiss and Bigelow were fined $100 each by the sanctioning U.S. Auto Club, on grounds they went onto the track under the yellow caution light a moment before it turned green.

Gaters To Debut Tomorrow Night

OAKLAND (AP) — The Golden Gaters debut tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the new World Team Tennis league.

Emerson is expected to face Denver's Tony Roche in the men's singles. Other Gaters include Emerson's fellow Australians Frew McMillan and Lesley Hunt, South Africa's Llana Kloss and Californias Dick Bohrnstedt and Denise Trilo.

Francoise Durr, Andrew Pattison and Kris Kemmer are other players on the Denver roster.

The WTT season will run through mid-August. The Gaters will play 22 home games, including one Saturday night against the Los Angeles Strings, at the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

Buick Century. $3,932.45*.

The car is Buick's Century Luxus—a most contemporary new breed of Buick, as you'll see.

To be sure, the things that make a Buick a Buick are there in abundance. The ride. The quiet. The rich interior environment. And that certain intangible something that describes a quality automobile.

Note, please, the formal roofline. It marks this Century as a class car. A car of substance.

But for all its substance, Century is also quite a small car. Trim of dimension. Light of foot. Easy to drive and park. Reasonable to operate.

You might say it combines the nimbleness of cars priced less with the comforts and refinements of cars priced a lot more. It's a superb Intermediate. At a price that's within reach of just about everyone.

Turbo Hydra-Matic Transmission.
Front disc brakes.
Power steering.
Plus a moderately-sized 2-barrel V-8 engine.

It's all included in the price shown. And that price also includes deluxe wheel covers and whitewall tires. For a relatively small car, Century is certainly a lot of car.

In all, it's one very intelligent way of dealing with these demanding times. And remaining serenely comfortable in the process.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE — Body by Fisher

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price, including dealer new vehicle preparation charges, deluxe wheel covers and whitewall tires. Other optional equipment, state and local taxes and transportation charges, ($268.00) and California Assembly Line Emission Testing ($20.00) are additional.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Some Confusion Exists On Funds

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have 52 shares of SCM Corp. (NYSE) purchased at $44 a share. Also I hold 100 Dreyfus Leverage Fund costing $15.90, now $9.95, and 100 Dreyfus Prospective Fund, which I paid $13.77 for and is now $13.49. I do not need the money now. Should I sell or not? — M.M.

A. There seems to be some confusion on your fund holdings. Dreyfus Leverage is trading above $13.00 rather than $9.95 as you state. Furthermore, Dreyfus has no fund called Prospective Fund. There is a fund entitled New Perspective Fund, trading at the net asset value you quote. This is a relatively new fund unrelated to Dreyfus but sponsored by Capital Research & Management, an affiliate of Investment Company of America. Thus far performance has been above average. Dreyfus Leverage, although down more than average so far in 1974, recorded above-average performance in the previous three years. Continued retention is justified.

Given an extension of the excellent results reported by SCM for the first nine months of the current fiscal year, these shares should continue to outperform the averages. From their December low, SCM shares have moved up 40 per cent. Operating results through March 31 showed a 21 per cent gain in sales and a 51 per cent jump in profits year to year. The business equipment group should be aided by the recently marketed bond paper copier. Thus, full-year earnings may reach $2.70, also reflecting strong results from the food, paper and chemical areas. At only 4.5 times projected 1974 results, this issue is well worth holding.

Q. Please comment on the safety of Dial Financial 8¼s of 1989 as I worry about them. — E.M.

A. This particular debenture carries an A rating. A small issue, only $15 million, it trades sporadically with a wide spread between bid and ask. The Federal Reserve Baord's disapproval of the merger with Chase Manhattan is disappointing although an appeal is expected. Despite a poor year in 1973, reflecting rising interest expenses, Dial's earnings more than covered bond interest payments and fixed charges. Your concern over this security is unnecessary.

VERSATILE VOYAGER

Plymouth introduces its Voyager Wagon, a multi-purpose vehicle with seating capacities from five to 15 passengers — ideal for sharing the ride, work or recreation. It comes in three models, 109-inch and 127-inch wheelbases, three body lengths, and load capacities up to 3,525 pounds. Local dealers are Corte Madera Chrysler Plymouth, Francisco Dodge Center in San Rafael, and Nave Dodge in Novato.

Stocks Move Ahead But Trading Is Slow

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bargain hunting among glamors and blue chips took stock prices higher today on the New York Stock Exchange. But concern over rising interest rates kept the trading pace slow.

There was little in the news to inspire traders, according to analysts. The main concern remained rising interest rates as the 11 per cent prime lending rate became general among banks.

Many on Wall Street now expected the rate banks charge top-rated commercial borrowers to keep rising. An executive of Bankers Trust said he anticipated the prime to rise to 11.5 per cent in the next month, but probably not much higher.

Uris Building, the most active issue, rose ½ to 14 ⅞ on 98,500 shares. The company is the target of a tender offer by National Kinney Corp.

In the glamor sector, Motorola rose 2 ⅛ to 57 ⅛. The company said it plans to end its television operations as quickly as possible, even if the proposed sale of Motorola's TV business to Matsushita is blocked by the government on antitrust grounds.

Among other high-priced stocks, Xerox climbed 2 ⅛, IBM 4, and Texas Instruments, Bausch & Lomb, Upjohn and ARA Services each added a point or more.

Stocks on the American Exchange rose in sluggish trading. New Process, the volume leader, added ⅛ to 7 ⅛ on 27,300 shares.

Banker Proposes A New Economic Policy Agency

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — President A. W. Clausen of Bank of America proposed a new "national economic commission" yesterday with power to shape new economic policy and head off "persistent double-digit inflation."

Clausen said traditional policy no longer works in combatting inflation in the "post-post-war" economy and suggested "broad, long-term action that doesn't take the place of but goes beyond traditional policy."

Clausen suggested that the leadership of government, business, labor, the financial community and other interests be brought together in "a summit commission representing all the interests that would have to agree in order to put a new economic policy into effect."

What 'Veto-Proof' Legislature Means

Probably most persons, when they see "veto-proof Congress," think of some social welfare or education funding bill dear to their hearts which has been vetoed by President Nixon. It would be nice, they think, to have a Congress so overwhelmingly "liberal" that it could override such vetoes by a two-thirds vote.

Similarly, when they see "veto-proof legislature," they think of some pet measure which has been vetoed by Governor Reagan. And they think it would be nice if there were votes in the legislature to override such vetoes — two-thirds, again, being required.

THAT'S NOT the principal reason, though, for the drive for a veto-proof Congress and legislature.

The campaign for a veto-proof Congress was mounted by the AFL-CIO and the National Education Association. That for a veto-proof legislature is being pushed and financed by the state affiliates of these two: the California State Federation of Labor and California Teachers Association.

Hierarchies of AFL-CIO are interested in getting a veto-proof Congress primarily for one purpose: to get into law a provision for union control of public employees.

Their reason is simple: The greatest growth in employment is in government. Therefore, that's where the labor organizations have the greatest field for getting new members — and more dues money. But under existing laws, exclusive union bargaining for public employees is forbidden in the federal government and in all but 12 states.

THE CLAY BILL (H.R. 8677) now in the House of Representatives would mandate the agency shop or union shop in all public employment — federal, state, county, city, district. It's not getting anywhere. But if a "veto-proof Congress" could be elected, it might be passed — and re-passed over President Nixon's veto.

In California, the Moretti Bill (A.B. 1243) is the vehicle. It has passed the Assembly 42 to 30 and is now in the hands of a Senate committee. But Governor Reagan is virtually sure to veto if it passes — as he did S.B. 400, which would have provided exclusive union bargaining for teachers. And there are not now nearly enough votes to override a veto.

THOSE OF US who don't particularly want a veto-proof Congress or legislature on the AFL-CIO-NEA terms need to know where the candidates for Congress and legislature stand on the issues of compulsory unionism for public employees.

We know the stand of Assemblyman John Burton, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district. He's for it. He voted for S.B. 400 and for A.B. 1243.

We know where State Sen. Peter H. Behr, who's seeking re-election, stands. He's for it. He voted for S.B. 400.

We know where Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Assembly, stands. He's for it. He has said so publicly.

We don't know where the rest of the candidates stand. We need to know. This is an issue on which all of them should make their positions unequivocally clear.

Do We Vote For A Name? James Flournoy Hopes So

By EARL G. WATERS

How many citizens cast their ballots for a name rather than the individual? That is a question which has bothered many a candidate. It is one presently bothering candidates for the office of state controller.

Houston I. Flournoy has been controller for eight years. His decision to seek the office of governor has opened the way for a successor. Ten candidates have filed. One of these is James L. Flournoy, a black Los Angeles attorney. He is a Republican.

California voters seem to fall into the habit of identifying a name with an office and sticking with that person. Casting their eyes down the list on the ballot they seem to be inclined to say to themselves, "Ah, that's the fellow I voted for last time. I guess I'll stay with him."

THIS KIND OF REASONING has been credited for electing Frank M. Jordan as secretary of state in 1942. His father, Frank C., had held the office for 28 years. Upon his death, Gov. Culbert L. Olson appointed Paul Peek to the post.

The younger Jordan had never held an elective office. He had never worked in the secretary of state's office. But when the election rolled around, he swamped Peek. People had become so accustomed to voting for Frank Jordan for secretary of state they didn't realize they were now voting for a different Jordan. Peek actually was defeated by a dead man. And the new Frank Jordan served for another 28 years as people continued to vote for him right up until his death in 1970.

Although the people haven't been voting for Houston Flournoy for 28 years, the candidates to succeed him are fearing that they have become accustomed to voting for that name for controller and that this will give James L. Flournoy a big edge.

AND, WHILE JAMES L. Flournoy has never held an elective office, he has been a candidate before.

In 1962 he ran unopposed in the primary for the Board of Equalization in the Fourth District, which comprised eight Southern California counties. Winning the Republican nomination uncontested, he faced Democrat Richard Nevins in November of that year. Nevins defeated him in all eight counties, totaling up 58.9 per cent of the vote. Still James Flournoy gathered over a million votes.

From that showing he sought the Republican nomination for Congress in the 31st District in 1966. In a field of four, he placed second with 24.8 per cent of the vote.

Undaunted, he sought and won the Republican nomination for secretary of state in 1970 against a field of seven. He pulled 30.22 per cent of the vote in that race. Houston I. Flournoy was also on that Republican ballot, running for re-election as controller. The name confusion was working.

BUT IN THE GENERAL election, James L. Flournoy ran into a Democrat who was also trading on the name-game. That was Edmund G. Brown Jr., also making his first bid in a statewide race. His name was even better known than Flournoy's, since his father had served eight years as attorney general and another eight years as governor.

It proved to be too much for James L. Flournoy. Young Brown polled over three million votes. He and Sen. John Tunney were the only Democratic winners in statewide contests that year.

But while James L. Flournoy was losing, Houston I. Flournoy was piling up 3,784,000 votes for re-election as controller. It was the largest vote received by anyone that year. This year's candidates for controller are hoping the voters know the difference between Houston and James. That is, except James, who hopes otherwise.

Supreme Court Rulings Encourage Disrespect

One can be offended, not very surprised, when there seems to be an increasing number of those who will not salute this country's flag.

Look to the recent decisions of the Supreme Court concerning the saluting of the flag, or refusing to do so: On April 16, 1973, the highest court in the land let stand a lower court decision that the firing of a Rochester, N.Y., teacher for refusing to recite the Pledge of Allegiance, and this includes a salute, with his pupils was an unconstitutional violation of his freedom of speech.

This year, 1974, this same Supreme Court upheld the right of anybody to wear the American flag on the seat of his pants, for to withhold that right would violate his freedom of speech! The flag on the seat of the pants is indeed free and plain speech and has only one meaning, so I have been told.

For the Supreme Court to uphold such an act of disrespect and desecration is an outrage!

One weeps again for all those who gave their lives for this flag and the republic for which it stands.

Nation Cannot Escape The Wrath Of God

Last month the Congress of the United States declared April 30 as a day of national fasting, humiliation and prayer. The president ratified that declaration. We are indeed living in humiliating days for America, days which remind me of the reign of Manasseh in the Old Testament. In those days, God said, "I will bring much evil upon Jerusalem. . . because they have done evil in my sight." What evil had they committed? According to 2 Kings 21:6, their major sin was passing their children through the fire, the idolatrous practice of offering infants as a burned offering to the false god, Moloch.

Americans are committing that same abominable sin today. It has been estimated that there are now 1,500,000 abortions per year in our nation. There is one abortion for every two live births!. . .

The laws of man are subject, in the final analysis, to the laws of God. Hitler could call Jews "non-persons." He could mutilate their bodies, perform atrocious "scientific" experiments on them without anesthetic, murder them by the millions. But Hitler could not escape the judgment of God. . . and neither can America! Murder is murder, regardless of what any man-made law may say. We have become a nation of butchers, and our victims are helpless, unborn babies. We no longer sacrifice them before the false god, Moloch, but we do sacrifice them before the idols of our day — sex, greed, and selfishness.

Yes, April 30 should have been a day of national humiliation, not because of Watergate, but because the action of Congress has permitted America to become a slaughterhouse for unwanted children, a Fascist state that has exchanged Jews for babies. I can assure you that we shall not go unpunished! America is finished unless we turn from this monstrous evil. The judgment is upon us! We shall not escape!

Judge's Petaluma Decision Ignores Residents' Rights

With regards to District Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke's decision on growth control ordinances and "any acts by government which have the effect of limiting population growth" is an unconstitutional infringement on the right to immigrate into an area — what about the rights of those of us who live there?

Almost two years ago, we, the people — i.e. the government — went to the polls and voted in the limitation to growth for we felt that we had this right. We also felt that we have the right to say no to tax increases; we have the right to not want to expose more children to the already overcrowded school situation, yet our rights have been denied.

Most all of us believe in equal rights, but how equal or how right is it when the rights of some citizens are overruled by the rights of others? Something is wrong with "rights" when business rights supercede citizen rights.

No Reason To Be Disturbed By Questions

As one of the Novato citizens who received the Parks and Recreation Department questionnaire, I found your editorial of April 29 rather puzzling. I fail to see how printed questions can be an invasion of privacy when one has the simple option of not answering them. The questionnaire made it quite clear, to me at least, that if one had reservations about furnishing the requested information, there was no obligation whatsoever to do so.

Surveys have become part of the American way of life. . . Not placing the address labels on a separate "tear-off" sheet was an oversight. . .

I do appreciate the posture that editors occasionally assume as protectors of the public welfare, however, I believe that the residents of Novato are qualified to make their own evaluations and decide whether or not they choose to answer a questionnaire.

Perhaps the most disturbing aspect of your editorial was that it attempted to plant suspicion in our community unnecessarily. There is enough paranoia in our country right now. Let's not add to the burden.

Mountain Play Rulings Ignore The Public

Several evenings ago I picked up your paper to read that the Marin Municipal Water Board had denied the use of Rock Springs Meadows as a parking area for the upcoming Mountain Play.

This evening I find that the county administrator has denied a carnival permit to the Mountain Play Association, backers of this annual event. (This decision was later reversed).

As a fifth generation bay area, Marin and Mill Valley resident, I am completely disgusted by this playing around with the people's right to enjoy a day in the outdoors upon their mountain. The Mountain Play is a local historical event, something that the whole family can enjoy.

I think that it is time that the various county officials and administrators get off their fat political behinds and start being of service to those who elect them and pay their salaries. According to theory, they are there to serve, not to control, coerce and harass.

Minute Of Silence Instead Of Pledge

I see no reason for any controversy about the pledge of allegiance at council meetings. We all know that stating allegiance does not necessarily indicate real patriotism. Nor does dislike of ritual make a person unpatriotic. What I suggest is to get rid of the problem, but still maintain the right to pledge allegiance to the flag or to swear to anything you wish. This could be done by having the mayor, immediately after calling the meeting to order, state that we are now going to have one minute of silence. During that time we all will be free to pledge inwardly our dedication to our country and our town, to express a religious thought, or to think of what we can do to make a better world starting right here. These are all patriotic aims.

No one should be offended by this moment of silence, and it may help a little to get our heads together. Certainly it will not generate disagreements.

New Democracy In Portugal Poses Some Questions For U.S.

One little item in the flow of last week's news deserved more attention than it could receive when headlines were dominated by White House transcripts and Henry Kissinger's arrival in the Middle East.

In Lisbon, for the first time in some 40 years, Communists and Socialists paraded openly, legally and happily on May Day.

Stated like that it seems a fairly innocuous and unimportant event. After all, Communists parade openly, legally and happily in most European capitals on May Day — and nothing particularly harmful seems to result therefrom. Besides, Portugal is a country of only some nine million persons on the flank of a subordinate peninsula of Europe. So what?

Well, perhaps nothing undesirable will come of it. But then again, this event just might cast a shadow on the future. The recent coup d'etat in Portugal was unusual. A military dictatorship was overthrown by young military officers. The military is seldom the vehicle for a political swing from right to left. Usually, the military itself brings in a far right dictatorship.

THIS NEW MILITARY command in Portugal has committed itself to the restoration of parliamentary democracy. There are to be elections. All political parties are tolerated. The old Communist leaders came back from exile, along with the Socialist leaders. The question is how far the political pendulum will swing from far right. Might it go far left?

There is no real experienced background for judging what is most likely to follow in Portugal. It was a monarchy from the Middle Ages to 1910. It was a republic from 1910 to 1926, when it became a one-man dictatorship. Normal political life in Portugal has been nonexistent since then. The general political inclination of the people is unknown and unknowable. The swing under the new freedoms may be modest and moderate. That would be excellent. But then, it might go far left. That would be another matter, which might greatly concern Washington.

Portugal and Spain are important to American military plans and operations. Hitler's U-boats used Spanish seaports during World War II — to the great disadvantage of the Allied powers. Washington has earnestly cultivated both Spanish and Portuguese governments since the war to make sure that the Atlantic flank of the Iberian peninsula is friendly.

If Communists got into power, or even got a shore of power in the new Portugal — would that flank remain secure? Also, if that happened in Portugal, might it help to unseat the present rightist government in Spain?

And what might happen to the enormously important Portuguese colonies in Africa? Portuguese Guinea and Angola are on the Atlantic side of Africa. African guerrilla forces in both have been sponsored and armed by Moscow and Peking. Washington does not need to be much concerned about Chinese influence in that part of the world. But Soviet Russian influence in West Africa could upset American NATO military calculations.

THE RUSSIANS ALREADY have a substantial seapower position in the Mediterranean and the beginning of a naval presence in the Indian Ocean. The reopening of the Suez Canal will make it possible for them to project still more seapower into the Indian Ocean. The southeast coast of Africa includes another big Portuguese territory — Mozambique.

If Moscow could gain a political position in all of those Portuguese colonies, it could use them for naval and air bases. That would mean that the NATO allies would no longer control the sea lanes all around Africa. It could also mean that Rhodesia and South Africa would be the last of white-dominated Africa.

Should Washington right now swing over and try to cultivate the African elements in the Portuguese colonies which presumably will be moving into government as the old white control gives way to a larger share for Africans? The hope of the new leadership in Portugal is that the colonies will remain within a Portuguese "federation." But once power sharing begins, where will it stop?

And what about Portugal itself? Does Washington keep hands off and merely watch to see how far the pendulum, so newly unleashed, will swing? It will be something for Dr. Kissinger to think about when he gets the Middle East tidied up and can think about something other than how to reconcile Arabs and Israelis without spoiling his "detente" with the Soviet Union.

High-Sounding Talk At U.N. Does Little For The Starving

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — On the lonely pinnacle of the tower on the East River over which he presides, Sec. Gen. Kurt Waldheim talks about how limited are his powers to direct the policy of the U.N.

Persuasion is almost his only recourse, along with the lever of public opinion, which at this point of world turmoil is of little avail.

His immediate goal is to try to get the affluent nations to put up money to help poor and developing nations that face starvation and breakdown. This need has been made acute by the special session of the General Assembly called by Algeria to show the fearsome gap between the poor raw material producers and the rich industrialized countries.

Because he feels the need is so urgent, Waldheim took an almost unprecedented step. Although normally he sits mute on the General Assembly rostrum, the other day he spoke out after the speeches had ground on for 15 days.

"THE FATE OF MILLIONS of people may well depend within the next few months on what this special session does or does not do," he said.

The sad fact is that almost no one outside the glass house on the East River is listening. Of course Waldheim says in his office on the 38th floor, we can get an agreement on principles. But he wonders whether as the session ends any practical measures in terms of money or even the pledge of money from the affluent is in sight.

Recently, Waldheim visited the sub-Saharan region where starvation is developing at an accelerated pace. One thing he found was great difficulty of getting existing supplies out to remote localities where primitive air strips could not take planes sufficiently large to carry meaningful loads.

Waldheim agrees with those on the scene that this may become, in Mali, Kenya, Ethiopia and the other drought-stricken states, the greatest mass starvation in recorded history.

AWARE OF HOW LITTLE support the U.N. has, Waldheim talks of how it has functioned as a keeper of the peace. U.N. forces were ready to move in as Israel and Egypt worked out the disengagement of their troops in the Sina. If Sec. of State Henry Kissinger can bring Syria and Israel to disengagement, the U.N. is prepared to carry out a peace keeping operation under more difficult and dangerous circumstances.

Having begun with such overblown hopes when it was founded nearly 30 years ago, there is disillusion because performance has fallen so far short of those hopes. But this ignores so much that the U.N. does in addition to its peace-keeping functions. The specialized agencies have notable achievements to their credit.

Foremost among them is the U.N. Children's International Emergency Fund. The appeal of UNICEF is universal because of the work done with children around the world. UNICEF's director, Henry R. Labouisse, is an able and imaginative public servant who served as U.S. ambassador in several posts before going with the U.N.

WHEN HE SPOKE to the special session of the General Assembly, Secretary of State Kissinger committed the United States to a "wide-ranging multilateral effort."

The speech was long on analysis and broad generalizations and short on any specific promise of help. Ten days after Kissinger spoke, President Nixon asked Congress for more than $5 billion in new foreign aid, much of it going to the Middle East to underwrite the Nixon-Kissinger peace initiatives.

A controversy has long continued over whether aid should be unilateral as is this latest package or multilateral through agencies like the U.N. and the World Bank.

Opposition has increasingly stiffened in Congress against distributing American dollars through international agencies. For nations in desperate straits as a result of the oil-fertilizer shortage, for the millions close to starvation in sub-Saharan Africa, it is a debate as empty as the principles adopted by the U.N. are likely to be.

Maybe Best Show In Town Needs Better Program Notes

Attendance at meetings of local governing bodies generally is sparse as people stay away in droves to watch television, bowl, drink, eat, read, or just plain fool around.

Often, those who attend say "it's the best show in town," but word apparently hasn't reached the multitudes.

With the view that perhaps the advance stories in newspapers aren't enticing enough, Sigmund Showbusiness submitted the following GV (government viewing) guide for upcoming sessions:

MONDAY

6 p.m., Novato Sanitary District — adventure: Panic erupts when the outfall line backs up and District Manager Charles A. Joseph can't find the plumber's helper.

7:30 p.m., Novato Fire District Board — comedy: A snorkel runs amok when it learns it is to be sold as surplus property.

8 p.m., Novato Planning Commission — science-fiction: A bitter battle develops when planners attempt to zone Mars and invading Martians disintegrate the Novato General Plan with laser beams.

TUESDAY

8 p.m., Novato City Council — drama: The Ghost of George C. Quesada returns to topple the regime.

8 p.m., North Marin County Water District Board — drama: As a raging torrent rushes through the board room, the chairman is arrested for not paying his water bill.

8 p.m., Novato Unified School District Board — romantic drama: A heart-warming evening that ends with the surprise wedding of Supt. James G. Bunker and trustee Betty Machado.

WEDNESDAY

8 p.m., North Marin Federation of Homeowners — drama: An undercover real estate agent infiltrates the meeting and urges everyone to sell his home and move into a five-story apartment.

THURSDAY

8 p.m., Novato Flood Control Zone advisory board — drama: A nerve-tingling horror tale as the Army Corps of Engineers reveals the latest estimate on the cost of the Novato flood control project.

ART BUCHWALD

Restoring (Expletive Deleted) To Office Of The President

WASHINGTON — On Oct. 13, 1960, John F. Kennedy debated Richard Nixon on television. At the time, the question of Harry Truman's cussing came up. Mr. Kennedy refused to apologize for Mr. Truman's salty language, but Mr. Nixon had strong feelings that a President of the United States should not curse. He said in part: "One thing I have noted as I have traveled around the country is the tremendous number of children who come out to see the presidential candidates. I see mothers holding up their babies so they can see a man who might be President of the United States. I know Senator Kennedy sees them, too. It makes you realize that whoever is president is going to be a man that all children of America look up to or look down on, and I can only say I am very proud that President Eisenhower restored dignity and decency and, frankly, good language to the conduct of the presidency of the United States.

"And I only hope, should I win this election, that I could approach President Eisenhower in maintaining the dignity of the office and see to it that whenever any mother or father talks to his child, he can look at the man in the White House and, whatever he may think of his policies, he will say, 'Well, there is a man who maintains the kind of standards personally that I would want my child to follow.' "

I MUST ADMIT that even though it's been 14 years since Mr. Nixon said this, I was very moved. Perhaps, I thought, for the first time in history this country would have a president who didn't cuss.

Although Mr. Nixon didn't make it in 1960, he did become president in 1968, and every time he drove by in the last five years I held up my son in my arms (he's now 20) and said, "There's a president who has the kind of standards I want you to follow."

You can imagine my despair and disillusionment when the transcripts of the presidential tapes were released and it turned out Mr. Nixon might have been the cussingest president in our history. Almost every other word had an "expletive deleted," and if you count the "inaudibles" and "unclears" and "ambiguities," it's enough to make a U.S. marine top sergeant's hair stand on end.

THE QUESTION IS what happened between the time Nixon debated Kennedy and the time he became President of the United States.

I sincerely believe Mr. Nixon was telling the truth when he said he was shocked by Harry Truman's language. I also believe in my heart he didn't start cussing until he lost the election to Kennedy.

A friend of Mr. Nixon told me, "I never heard Dick use an 'expletive deleted' until the 1960 Illinois results of the election came in. In 1962, he lost the race for governor in California and he let out one 'inaudible' after another. I didn't know there were that many 'expletives' in the English language. It was hard after that to have Dick over to the house when the children were around.

"I thought when he became president and he was more secure he'd stop using 'expletives,' but apparently once you start using them it's hard to give them up," the friend said.

AND SO IT TURNS OUT that President Nixon was no better than Harry Truman when it came to language, and a lot worse than President Eisenhower. It's something we'll all have to get used to.

But I know one thing — I'm no longer going to hold up my 20-year-old son in my arms when the president drives by. Any president who promises to restore good language to the presidency and then talks the way he did is nothing but an "inaudible" in my book.

New York Daily News Rolls — 10 Hours Late

NEW YORK (UPI) — Today's first edition of the New York Daily News reached the streets about 10 hours late today after a confrontation between printers union leaders and the News that management called a strike and the printers called a lockout.

A News spokesman, Jack Metcalf, said the presses began rolling shortly before 5 a.m. and the 60-page edition was loaded on trucks for distribution at about 5:30 a.m.

Metcalf, the News' special projects editor, said today's first edition, which usually gets out about 8 p.m. the previous evening, was set with the use of automated typesetting equipment that is an issue in the dispute between the printers and the city's three major newspapers.

The paper went to press about two hours after Bertram Powers, president of Typographical Union Local No. 6, and seven other union officials were arrested on criminal trespass charges. About 200 printers on the shift, refusing to handle the mechanically produced type, were ordered out of the building by management.

The News has a circulation of approximately two million. It was not known how many papers were printed today, but Jack Metcalf, a News spokesman, had said earlier it was expected the press run would total about 750,000.

To publish today's edition, the News used a photocomposing machine known as the CompStar 191, which produces columns of type on photographic film that is hyphenated and justified by means of a computer.
